—United Nations Official Leaps To Death—

Lie Says Smears Led To Feller's Suicide

Retiring Secretary Declares Strain Of Defending Employees Against Exaggerated Charges Responsible For Fatal Plunge

NEW YORK (AP)—Abraham H. Feller, a right hand man to Trygve Lie in the United Nations, tore himself from his wife's arms Thursday and plunged to death from his 12th floor apartment.

Lie, secretary-general of the U. N., said Feller killed himself because of the strain of defending U. N. employes "against indiscriminate smears and exaggerated charges."

Feller, 47-year-old former New Deal lawyer in Washington, was described as a buffer man between the U. N. and twin federal probes of Communist activity among American personnel of the international organization.

Robert Morris, counsel for the McCarran Senate Subcommittee probe of U. N. Communism, said Feller, himself, was not a target of the investigation.

Feller's wife, Alice, sobbingly said the American-born, Harvard-educated legal expert took his own life because of "fatigue and overwork."

"He was talking of killing himself," she told newsmen in her tastefully furnished apartment. "I was arguing with him not to do it. He jumped up suddenly and ran to the window. I was pulling him back. I held him as long as I could, then he fell."

"He killed himself.

"He was rational, but hell-bent for destruction.

Neighbors Too Late

"I held him by the arms. I held him by the shoulders and around the body. I was screaming all the while. Then the neighbors came, but it was too late. I had to let go."

The slight body of the United Nations executive landed in a courtyard in the rear of his apartment on Central Park West.

His personal physician—summoned earlier by Mrs. Feller when her husband threatened suicide—arrived moments after Feller went out the window. He is Dr. Frederick Bridge.

Feller was an $18,000 a year general counsel and principal director of the U. N. legal department since 1946.

Lie Leaves Luncheon

Lie left a luncheon honoring U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson to hurry to Mrs. Feller's side. He called Feller's death "a great loss to the United Nations."

Later, the secretary general returned to his office and issued a statement in which he said of Feller:

"Because of his responsibilities as general counsel of the United Nations, he has had to assume heavy additional burdens in recent weeks as my representative in matters connected with the investigations of the Grand Jury and the Senate Internal Security Sub-Committee into charges of subversive affiliations directed against American members of the Secretariat.

"He has worked tirelessly day and night under my direction to uphold due process of law and justice in the investigations against indiscriminate smears and exaggerated charges.

"This placed him under a long and serious strain. The terrible tragedy of his death today is the result."

Lie's Charges Are Branded Irresponsible

NEW YORK (INE) — The chief counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee Thursday night branded as "irresponsible" charges by U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie that the mystery suicide of U. N. General Counsel Abraham H. Feller resulted from the committee's "smears and exaggerated charges."

Robert Morris, who issued the statement on behalf of three members of the committee, Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss), Sen Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) and Sen. Willis Smith (D-NC), said:

"The statement of Trygve Lie is on its face irresponsible. This subcommittee is charged with the duty of determining whether United States citizens working at the United Nations pose a threat to our national security.

"The shocking aspect of these hearings has been not so much the evidence presented as the refusal of these officials of the U. N. to deny under oath their participation in the Communist conspiracy on the ground that their answer might incriminate them. . ."

BONNY PRINCE CHARLES GROWS UP—A window of Scotland's Balmoral Castle frames Britain's youthful Queen Elizabeth and her smiling son, Prince Charles, who will celebrate his fourth birthday Friday. Imposing titles are piling up on the little prince, heir apparent to the British throne. Court circles believe he will add the Prince of Wales title to his other monikers before another year. Prince Charles Is 4 Years Old; Eventful Year Ahead Is Seen

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles will be 4 Friday and there are indications the heir apparent to the British throne will be entering the most eventful year of his young life.

Court circles believe the robust lad who romps about Buckingham Palace will be designated Prince of Wales before his fifth birthday.

There has been no Prince of Wales for 16 years. Many Welshmen are urging that Charles assume as soon as possible the title and station last held by the Duke of Windsor.

The next year of his life also brings the coronation of Charles' mother, Queen Elizabeth II, and world interest is sure to fall occasionally on the little boy in that stirring pageantry.

But he cannot become Prince of Wales automatically. It is a title held traditionally by male heirs to the throne. But it can be conferred on Charles only by his mother. Many expect she will do so very soon.

Patrick Montague-Smith, assistant editor of Debrett's Peerage, the chronicle of the empire's nobility and aristocracy, said the creation of Charles as Prince of Wales "will most likely be announced within the next few months."

At 4, Prince Charles, of course, knows the meaning of birthdays, and he is aware that there will be excitement, a party and presents in the palace Friday.

Legislative Council Okays Four Reports After Serious Debate

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Serious and careful consideration of four reports by committees was given Thursday by the Legislative Council in an all-day session with controversial recommendations or suggestions debated at length.

Accepted by the Council were reports by the committees on oil and natural gas, annual sessions, watersheds and highways. Debate was not completed on the education committee report at adjournment until Friday.

While the reports were accepted, there was a difference of opinion among senators as to whether it meant the committee had completed its job or whether it meant the committee findings were adopted as the views of the entire Council.

Loud 'No' Votes

Several loud "no" votes were cast on the recommendations for annual sessions by the committee headed by Sen. Tom Adams of Lincoln. He had explained that more realistic budgets and appropriations could be made on an annual basis. Adams pointed out that many budgets now have to be made nearly three years in advance of last expenditures.

Sen. Charles Tvrdik, Omaha, reminded the members that Nebraska voters just last week turned down a proposed constitutional amendment which would have raised a legislator's pay from $872 a year to $1,250 a year.

An annual session would put still more of a financial burden on the members, Tvrdik contended.

"If we do hold annual sessions, under the present set-up, we will become just a rich man's holiday. The average man could not afford to spend the time down here for a session every year," Tvrdik commented.

'People Will Wonder'

Sen. O. H. Person, Wahoo, concurred saying, "The people will wonder why we want an annual session now, after the pay raise was turned down, when we could hardly make expenses before with a session only every two years."

The watershed committee reported on its findings and had drafted a bill which appeared to have more support than the loosely-drawn proposal which was finally killed in committee at the last session.

The highway bill contained few definite recommendations but a number of suggestions were made for the next session to consider.

The Council made no changes in any of the committee reports.

Considerable debate is expected Friday when the taxation committee report is presented. It provides for taking the state out of the property tax field and substituting another tax. Property taxes would be left to counties and other governmental subdivisions.

November City Accident Count Shows Increase

Traffic accidents in Lincoln have taken a jump during November of this year, with 115 reported to the police department by the 12th.

In comparison, the total number of accidents in 1951 totaled only 391. Although there has been an increase in the accidents, the injuries listed up to the 12th this month are only a third of the total for November in 1951, which recorded 27.

The fatalities, however, for the city number five, which compares badly with the total of two deaths in the city in 1951 on the same date, Nov. 12, although there was a total of seven deaths in Lincoln by the end of last year.

The total injuries in the city thus far is almost keeping even with the number of traffic deaths in the state, with 294 listed to date.

Red Tide Is Blamed For Dead Fish

Deadly Scourge Believed Again Taking Heavy Toll

FT. MYERS, Fla. (AP)—A U. S. sealife expert said Thursday fish are dying in this area apparently from the same "red tide" which killed millions of fish in 1947.

"My observation from the air indicates that the dead fish have been killed in the same manner they were killed in 1947-48," John F. Howell, biologist of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, said. Howell planned to go out in a Coast Guard boat Friday to pick up samples and make a chemical analysis to confirm his first impression.

Howell flew in from Galveston when the appearance of masses of dead fish in the Gulf of Mexico off the southwest Coast of Florida stirred fear that the deadly red tide was back.

All reports so far show a great likeness to conditions accompanying the mysterious red tide, which got its name from the patches of reddish-brown water wherever groups of dead fish were found.

Scientists say the red tide is millions of tiny marine organisms, known as dinoflagellates. Some believe these organisms clog the gills and strangle the fish. Others think the dinoflagellates throw off a poison which kills fish.

Pinpoint Is Rewon By ROKs 15th Time In Month

SEOUL (AP)—A sensational charge by South Koreans that Chinese Communists used gas shells early Friday in capturing Pinpoint Hill was termed unfounded by a U.S. chemical warfare expert.

Lt. Col. Harrison A. Markham, chemical officer of the Ninth Corps, said after an investigation at the front that one soldier was made ill from picric acid fumes from a regular artillery shell.

Another South Korean soldier who was rendered unconscious was found to have been knocked out by a log when a bunker was blown up by an artillery shell, Markham added.

Pinpoint Regained

Even as the charges were laid to rest, the never-give-up South Koreans returned to the counter attack and swept up to the top of Pinponit Hill from which they were knocked a few hours before.

They fought seven hours of hand-to-hand combat against Chinese Reds in chill autumn rain before recapturing the pinnacle for the 15th time in a month.

By noon, the Central Front action had reached the mopping up stage against Communist remnants who chose probable death instead of retreat.

Shortly after last midnight, 700 screaming Chinese Reds attacking behind a heavy artillery barrage had knocked the South Koreans off Pinpoint, the crest of Sniper Ridge.

Careful Check Made

The attack brought a charge by South Koreans that the Reds had violated the Geneva Convention by using gas shells. But a U. S. chemical warfare expert, after checking, said the charge was unfounded.

Col Markham said "it sounds like picric acid to us." He said picric fumes are given off by the detonation of old gunpowder.

The charge of gas warfare has been bandied by both sides, with repeated denials. The Geneva Convention outlaws gas in warfare and both the Allies and the Communists maintain they obey these rules.

Mistake Often Made

U. S. officers told AP Correspondent John Randolph at the front that soldiers in the heat of an engagement often mistake fumes from phosphorous or smoke shells for poison gas.

South Koreans often try to save face in their battle reports. Recently they held up from U. S. officers the news they had lost a Central Front height.

Early Wednesday, the South Koreans had counter-attacked and recaptured Pinpoint Hill. They tried hard most of Thursday but they could not budge the Chinese from the Yoke, the northernmost objective on Sniper.

The Yoke is honeycombed with tunnels and caves, and it is almost impossible to blast out the Chinese defenders.

Action was light elsewhere along the 155-mile front.

'High-Minded Young Lawyers' Said Needed In Government

OMAHA (AP)—The president of the American Bar Association said Thursday there should be more "high-minded, public spirited young lawyers" in government.

A strong government depends on able administrators, said Robert G. Storey of Dallas, Tex. The bar should encourage young lawyers to recognize the "important opportunity" which they have to serve the profession in government office, he declared.

Storey spoke to the annual convention of the Nebraska State Bar Association.

The program calls for development of ABA's property in Chicago into an American Bar Center complete with library; increase in ABA membership to the point where it represents a majority of American lawyers instead of just one-fourth of them as at present; establishment of a fund to provide indemnity payments when "now and then a lawyer embezzles his clients funds;" extension of low cost legal assistance to those unable to pay and to do so "without federal or state subsidies"; and assuming an obligation to preserve the constitutional form of government.

Among guests at the meeting was Judge Dhaarmasatki Sanya of Thailand, who told the group that in Thailand judges are compelled to retire when they reach 60.

"Ours is a tropical country and we mature earlier and grow old more quickly," he said.

Judge Sanya is in Nebraska visiting Chief Justice Robert Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court, who visited Sanya during a tour of the Far East last summer.

Rain Likely In Nebraska

Weather forecasters, while not going out on a limb, had encouraging words for drought-stricken Nebraskans Friday with a prediction of possible moisture for at least part of the state.

The forecast for moisture first appeared late Wednesday night, with predictions of possible rain or snow Friday. However, Weather Bureau forecasts early Thursday made no mention of the moisture, but later Thursday the prediction was back in.

Late Thursday the forecast said the state might get the moisture, only this time it will be Saturday.

The forecast is for cooler weather Friday night, followed by considerable cloudiness and colder Saturday, with scattered showers likely east and possible light rain or snow west.

If the state gets any moisture, and if any of it falls on Lincoln, it will be the first here in any measurable amount in the past 55 days. Only .04 of an inch has been recorded here since early in September.

Nebraskan On Crashed Plane; Wreck Found

SHELTON, Wash. (AP) — The scattered wreckage of a four-engined Navy plane and the broken and burned bodies of four of the 11 men aboard were found by searchers in the rugged Olympic Peninsula foothills late Thursday.

The other seven men are presumed to have died in the crash and explosion of the Privateer which splattered against the forested hillside Wednesday night with a thunderous roar

Airman Gerald E. Jones, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ingvert L. Jones, Rt. 2, Blair, was one of the crew members aboard the plane, and his parents had been notified earlier that he was missing.

Search parties had been working all day toward the spot where loggers and residents of the remote area 15 miles northwest of here said they had seen and heard the plane crash.

Veep To Have Cataract Taken From His Eye

WASHINGTON (INS) — Vice President Barkley said Thursday night he is entering Bathesda Naval Hospital to rest until Monday when he will undergo what he called "a routine eye operation" for the removal of a cataract.

Barkley

The Vice President said a similar operation was performed on one eye in February of this year and that "it was so successfull" he is having a cataract on the other eye removed.

He said he "had some time on his hands" and decided to have the operation now instead of later. He insisted that it was not a serious operation—"just routine surgery."

Shooting Stars Shower Begins

NEW YORK (AP)—A four-night shower of shooting stars begins Thursday night throughout the world, the Hayden Planetarium said.

Robert Coles, planetarium chairman, said the leonids, or meteors, should be visible at the rate of six an hour from midnight to dawn. The leonids are the meteors which dazzled the world with sky showers in 1799, 1833 and 1866, Coles said, but they are much less spectacular now.

They are appearing because the earth is passing through the tail of the Comet 1866-1.

Water Policy Declaration Faces Fight

10-Point Policy Is Offered Delegates

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Delegates to the National Reclamation Association Convention Thursday heard a discussion of the controversial 160-acre land limitation as a behind-the-scenes fight raged over a proposed national water policy declaration.

It was Water Users' Day for some 1,000 representatives from 17 western states and elsewhere so far as the program was concerned. But a Washington state caucus touched off speculation as to the fate of a proposed 10 point water policy declaration by asking further study rather than final association action Friday.

A brief 10-point policy was presented by a special committee Thursday and embodied in a proposed resolution saying a "trend toward federal domination" of water resources development must be reserved. It said:

Basin-Wide Projects

1. Local interests shall lead in initiating planning, financing, constructing and operating water resource developments, including those with power features.

2. All future projects whenever possible should be for basin-wide developments.

3. An interstate compact approach is preferable in organization for multiple-purpose, basin-wide interstate developments.

4. Use of water shall be as provided by state law; ownership of water facilities shall be in local interests, subject only to satisfaction of contractural obligations; the same rule shall apply to power should always be incident" — to impounding water for irrigation.

5. Careful calculations should be made as to the division of construction costs as between categories which must be repaid to the government and those which are non-reimbursable under law, such as navigation, flood control and fish and wildlife conservation features.

Optional Repayment

6. The kind of repayment contracts used in connection with development should be at the option of local contracting interests.

7. All interests, including the federal government, shall respect the integrity of state water laws and conform to them; federal claims to unappropriated water shall be abandoned in favor of recognition of superior title of reclamation states.

8. Development of power is integral in a national water policy; sales of power should be made to public and private users at bus bar usually at point of generation where possible; duplicate transmission lines shall be avoided; rates should be prescribed by the Federal Power Commission.

9. Land limitation, or restriction of delivery of irrigation water to not more than 160 acres for a single land owner, should be more liberally and rationally applied, and the limitation should not be applied to supplemental water projects.

10. Every encouragement should be given forest management and range regulation having as its purpose provision of optimum water runoff and protection of range from avoidable erosion.

Philip Murray Is Buried Near Familiar Mine

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Philip Murray, beloved president of the CIO, went to his last resting place Thursday on a cemetery hill-top within view of one of the soft coal mines in which he began his long labor career.

The 66-year-old Murray—often hailed as the statesman of organized labor — was buried in his family cemetery lot in suburban Castle Shannon after services in St. Paul's Cathedral.

An estimated 10,000 fellow Pittsburgers watched the funeral procession — 150 chartered limousines and scores of private cars — make its way to the cathedral and then to the cemetery. About 3,000 crowded the church for solemn requiem high mass celebrated by a boyhood friend of Murray. Another 2,000 awaited on the cemetery hillside when the funeral procession arrived.

Boyhood Friends

Murray died of a heart attack Sunday in a San Francisco hotel room.

Murray's funeral fass was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry A. Carlin, vicar general of the Pittsburgh Diocese of the Catholic Church, who lived near the Murray family when both the priest and the labor leader were lads in the coal mining community of Keystone in Southwestern Pennsylvania's Westmoreland County.

Murray was buried in St. Anne's cemetery.

Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania, a half dozen U. S. senators, Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin representing the President, and other high governmental officials acted as honorary pallbearers or rubbed shoulders in the crowded cathedral with steelworkers and other working men and women.

MYSTERY WOMAN IN CUBAN SLAYING — Maria del Carman Pereda, 30, Spanish beauty and television star in Havana, has become the mystery woman in the slaying in Havana, Cuba, of Julio Cesar Gonzalez Rebull, president of the Havana newspaper "El Crisol." He was found shot to death in her apartment. (AP Wirephoto Thursday Night.)

Beauty Relates By Signs How Man Lured To His Death

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A beauty from Spain, wounded and talking in sign language, described to court officials Thursday how she was forced to lure a wealthy Havana newspaper publisher to her apartment—and death.

Maria del Carmen Pereda, 30, a television star in Havana, told an investigating judge that her former lover shot Julio Cesar Gonzalez Rebull, president of the newspaper "El Crisol," and then shot her in the jaw.

Court officials said due to injuries and bandages she was unable to talk but answered questions by moving her head or hands, or, when volunteering information, by using the sign language.

Court officials asked her if her former sweetheart — fat, balding Matias Mateo Carreno, 52—had forced her to make a telephone call to Gonzalez Rebull, handsome, 45-year-old publisher. She nodded yes, and, forming her right hand into the shape of a pistol, pointed it at her head.

When court officials asked her about the motive, she shook her head and, with a motion of the hands said, in effect "I'm not talking about that."

Gen. Schepmann Must Serve A Term In Jail

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)— West Germany's Supreme Court ruled Thursday that ex-Nazi Gen. Wilhelm Schepmann, who made a political comeback Sunday, must serve a nine-month jail sentence imposed in 1950.

The former storm trooper won seats in both the town and city councils at Gifhorn, near Brunswick, in local elections Sunday.

Stanton Man Named Head District Judges

OMAHA (AP)— Fay H. Pollock of Stanton, Neb., Thursday was elected president of the Nebraska Association of District Judges succeeding John L. Polk of Lincoln.

The association meeting in conjunction with the Nebraska Bar Association also named these new officers: Judge Arthur C. Thomsen of Omaha, vice-president; Judge Lyle Jackson, Neligh, secretary-treasurer.

Editors Examine News Transmission By Teletypesetter

BOSTON (AP)—That most modern of news transmission facilities —teletypesetter — was given a close examination by a group of managing editors Thursday and the findings were generally good.

Comment at the annual meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association centered on problems involved in transmitting stories by teletypesetter. Claude Ramsey of the Asheville, N. C. Citizen-Times, chairman of the APME Teletypesetter Committee, reported "many editors are enthusiastic, but all are not pleased."

Teletypsetter wires deliver to newspapers a perforated tape which is then used for automatic operation of line-casting machines.

Much of the discussion concerned the advisability of eliminating datelines, speed transmission and increasing news volume on TTS.

Balloting for new APME directors completed the day's business activities and a report on the election is scheduled for Friday.

ABC, United Merger Is Supported

Okay Recommended By FCC Examiner

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Federal Communications Commission examiner Thursday recommended approval of the proposed merger of the American Broadcasting Co., and United Paramount Theaters, in a move designed to furnish ABC with working capital for its radio and television operations.

Hearing Examiner Leo Resnick issued the decision in the long, tangled case, which involves changes of ownership in radio and TV properties across the nation.

In an accompanying opinion, Resnick ruled that Paramount Pictures Corp. does not control the Allen B. Dumont Laboratories, Inc., within the meaning of FCC law.

The merger of the two huge entertainment enterprises was considered a major step toward closer co-operation between the television industry and motion picture and theater owners.

Other Recommendations

In his decision, Resnick also recommended:

1. Approval of Dumont's applications for TV stations WDTV, Pittsburgh, Pa., WTTG, Washington, D. C., and WABD, New York City.

2. Approval of the application by Paramount Television Productions, Inc., for a license to operate television stations, KTLA, Hollywood, Calif., and auxiliary outlets.

3. Granting of the Balaban and Katz Corp., authority relating to TV station WBKB and FM station WBIK, Chicago.

4. Renewal of the license owned by WSMB, Inc., to operate stations WSMB, AM, and FM, New Orleans.

New Company

The merger will set up a new company, known as American Broadcasting-Paramount Theaters. The move involves the transfer and assignment to the new company of licenses for stations KECA AM, FM and TV, Los Angeles; KGO AM, FM and TV, San Francisco; WENR AM, FM and TV, Chicago; WJZ AM, FM and TV, New York; and the transfer of control over WSMB, New Orleans.

The examiner also recommended approval of the application for assignment of station WBKB, Chicago, from Balaban and Katz Corp., to the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.

Four Of Six Foreign Students At NU Feel Ike Choice Right

Four of six University of Nebraska foreign students went on record—with some reservations—Thursday night stating that the American people made the wisest choice in electing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower president for the next four years.

As guest speakers of the University of Nebraska Council of World Affairs, meeting at the Student Union, the students' opinions ranged from great admiration for both the general and his opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, to skepticism of the Republican President-elect's expressed goals.

Kassa Michal, Ethiopian graduate student in teachers college, said he considered Eisenhower a "very great man," but sounded a warning for the American people in their work in foreign affairs.

'Can't Buy Peace'

"Foreign aid," Michal said, "hasn't borne the fruit that many of you believe, mainly because money can't buy peace, as you know."

Polish student Miss Marlena Shuman, a freshman in law school, concurred with the people's choice, saying that Eisenhower would lead America to victory.

"I'm very happy and proud of the American people," she said, adding that "in one night the Americans demonstrated to me that they had awakened."

'A Victory'

For John Methuselah, Indian graduate student in sociology, the election was an indication that "democracy had won a victory."

"I liked Ike because he is a great soldier and administrator," he said, "but a politician and statesman—no. He has too much of a military mind."

Gerd Hoffend, Fullbright scholar from West Germany, who is majoring in business administration, confessed that it seemed neither candidate spoke out clearly on what he would do with the current problems.

'Balloons'

"It was like blowing up balloons of small issues," he continued. "Eisenhower's statement about going to Korea did not answer the question of what he would do about the war there."

Most skeptical of the President-elect was Takashi Shimada, Japanese graduate student in business administration.

Terming both men "good candidates," Shimada said that Eisenhower's statement concerning Asians fighting Asians "struck me very hard."

Heinze Schreiner, Austrian graduate student in bio-chemistry, endorsed the new President-elect most strongly.

He charged that the present tangled world situation was mostly the fault of "the man who has been president for the last seven years."

Rule Expected On Petition By Bennie Barone

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals is expected to rule later this week on an application for bond by Bennie Barone of Omaha, Neb., a restaurant operator convicted of aiding three bank burglars.

His petition for bail was filed Thursday. His attorneys asked for his release under $10,000 bond so that he could conduct this business.

Barone was convicted of receiving $3,100 in money stolen by three men from a bank at Laurens, Ia., and transported in interstate commerce. He was sentenced in District Federal Court at Omaha to three years in prison and fined $2,500. Barone appealed the case and was refused bond.

The Appellate Court rejected an application for bail by Stanley Dale Sydow, 22, of near Lyons, Neb., who has appealed a case in which he was convicted of refusing to appear for army induction and was sentenced to three years in prison.

Friend Man, Found Shot, Reported In Serious Condition

John Sampson, 40, of Friend, was in serious condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday night suffering head wounds caused by a shotgun blast.

Sampson was brought to the Lincoln hospital after he was found Thursday afternoon in the outskirts of Friend in a delivery truck owned by the cleaning establishment he operates. Also found in the truck was a .410 guage shotgun, with which the wounds were apparently inflicted.

Saline County Sheriff John Tesar told The Star he would be in Lincoln Friday at the request of County Attorney Joseph Ach for further investigation of the circumstances of the shooting.

Tesar said Ach had not finally determined how the shooting occurred. When found Sampson was unable to talk because of his wounds.

ARMED FORCES CITE BREWING PROGRAM

Military leaders recognize that beer is a factor in the morale of our Armed Forces. The brewing industry wants the best possible conditions to exist where the serviceman can enjoy a glass of beer — if and when he chooses.

The brewing industry in Nebraska realizes taverns near military installations must be neat, clean, and orderly. Meetings with brewers, military commanders, and tavern keepers are held. All cooperate in maintaining healthy conditions around our military camps.

The brewing industry's program has been publicly endorsed by the services. Army and Air Force regulations urge officers to make use of this program of cooperation.

Here is another example of the continuing program of education conducted by the brewing industry in Nebraska.

Legal Problem In Closing Law Studied

Decision By Court Gives Two Choices

Lincoln's proposed new Sunday closing ordinance, scheduled for introduction to the City Council Monday, shapes up as a major legal problem.

The state Supreme Court has ruled the city's existing ordinance is unconstitutional in that it discriminates by allowing businesses open on Sunday to sell milk, bread, fresh fruits and ice, items sold by stores which are not allowed to open on Sunday.

From that ruling, it would appear the Council would either have to outlaw the sale of those four items on Sunday or permit all businesses to remain open on Sunday.

'No Intention'

And Mayor Victor E. Anderson said he has no intentions of outlawing the sale of those four items on Sunday. Anderson said he has not yet studied the proposed ordinance but that some reasonable solution would have to be found to the problem.

Attorney Richard Vestecka has asked for the Sunday closing ordinance to protect grocers and hardware men who must close on Sunday. Businesses such as drug stores, claims Vestecka, are allowed to stay open Sundays and sell groceries and all kinds of household appliances.

The proposed new ordinance, while outlawing the sale of everything on Sunday except "necessary" items or services, permits stores to remain open on Sunday if they close on another day of the week for religious purposes.

Two other possibilities have been mentioned on the Sunday closing issue. One would be to do away with any restrictions and allow anyone to open on Sunday if they so desired or to require all businesses to close on any one day of the week which they preferred.

Judge Turns Down Man's Offer Pay Fine In Advance

"Is there any possibility of paying this fine twice?" asked a defendant in County Court Thursday after Judge Herbert A. Ronin ordered him to pay a $10 fine.

Leonard Allen, Pleasant Dale, a service station attendant, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery upon another man on Nov. 13.

"If he ever comes around to my place again, I'm going to have some more trouble with him," Allen said in explanation of his wish to pay a double fine.

Judge Ronin explained that the fine for a second offense is higher and that there would be no chance for Allen to pay in advance for an offense he might commit in the future.

"Call the sheriff next time," Judge Ronin advised.

Amended Business Zoning Application Changes Location

The application of James A. Strauss for local business zoning at 62nd and Adams has been amended to move the proposed site about 550 feet from Northeast High School property.

The Lincoln School Board has objected to local business closer than two blocks to school property. The City Planning Commission has recommended local business no closer than one and one-half blocks or 525 feet from any school property.

Strauss now proposes the Council to make a local business zone between 61st and 63rd at Knox, about 550 feet from Northeast High property.

Don E. Dixon has applied for local business zoning at 59th and Adams. Half of the property included in Dixon's request is more than 525 feet from Northeast High.

Omahan Claims Seeing H-Bomb Powerful Blast

OMAHA (AP)—An Omaha serviceman was among those who saw a powerful bomb explosion in the Eniwetok Island area, which he said he believes was "the first H-bomb."

In a letter to his girl friend here, published in the Omaha World-Herald, the Omahan said:

"By now you know the first H-bomb has been set off here. I was lucky enough to be one of those who got to see it.

"We turned away from the blast until after a set time. All this time, even with my eyes closed, you could see an eerie orange glow.

"On our backs we could feel the heat of it. It felt like a blowtorch that had been lit off a few feet behind me.

"When we turned around we could see a mushroom-like cloud up in the sky. It was really something to see."

The sailor's parents said they also had received a letter from their son in which he mentioned the bomb explosion Nov. 1.

Wants To Help Others Troubled With Dandruff

YORK, Nebr. — Mrs. Bill Root, 1905 Lincoln Ave., says: "I have had such wonderful results from the use of Baker's Hair Tonic, that I hope my experience may help others. I had been disappointed so many times by other things I had tried, that I doubted the merit of Baker's, but my doubting has turned to praise. It seems almost like a miracle the way it gave me such prompt relief from the torment and embarrassment caused by dandruff and itchy scalp, and my hair has a much more lively look. I wouldn't think of trying to get along now without Baker's Hair Tonic."

For dandruff and itchy scalp, use Baker's Hair Tonic. For clean scalp and lustrous hair, use Baker's Shampoo. Buy them where you trade. You'll like Baker's, or the makers will refund your money.—Adv.

Hell's Canyon

By J. E. LAWRENCE

The Snake River of the Northwest, one of the tributaries of the Columbia rising in snow-covered mountains not a great distance from the headwaters of two other great streams—the Missouri and the Colorado—may 50 years hence, although the possibility is becoming remote, make a real contribution to Nebraskans.

★

For a distance the Snake, cutting through a high mountain plateau, winds its way at the foot of sheer rock walls rising sharply, at points almost perpendicular, to a height of more than 600 feet above the waters of the stream. That particular stretch of the Snake's course is known as Hell's Canyon. It is picturesque but rough country. None of it is under cultivation. It is sparsely-settled, remote, adapted only to grazing. It never will be put to the plow, bleak, forbidding as it is, and yet, strangely, Hell's Canyon and the region which surrounds it may make an incalculably important contribution to America's food supply when and if this nation's population increases to the point where only the most intensified methods of cultivation will suffice to feed hungry mouths.

★

That, of course, is a long way off. The Department of Agriculture looking ahead suggests that by 1975 there will be an extra plate, a fifth plate, at the table of every American family. Not too many years ago, the actuarial studies took the position that population would be stabilized at a figure around 150 to 165 million. But in between 1940 and 1950, the United States registered the heaviest population gain of any decade in its history, and less than two years later Uncle Sam boasted of nearly 155 million people. If the same gain is maintained, a gain due not only to a higher birth rate but, thanks to modern science, a greatly lengthened life span for the individual, it is not at all impossible that America will have to feed 200 million mouths, and unless living standards are to decline, that means a whole lot more food than is required for equal masses of people elsewhere.

★

Good earth is getting no younger. Here in Nebraska, good earth is beginning to show the signs of age. In this last growing season of 1952, it appears that the food producers used more commercial fertilizer to restore the fertility of their fields by at least 10 per cent over the preceding year. The need will not decrease.

★

Another 10 years and a part of every well-ordered farm program will call for the use of substantial amounts of commercial fertilizer. There is where Hell's Canyon comes in. Within a short distance of Hell's Canyon are the deposits in unlimited amount which go into the production of commercial fertilizer. Today they are of little benefit to the farmer who lives to the west of the Missouri River. He must look to the established markets for his supply of fertilizer, which adds to the cost. There is everything required for a great industry in the Hell's Canyon country with but one exception—and that is a supply of electricity in enormous quantities—cheap electricity.

★

In preliminary studies, plans have been drawn for a dam which will bear the name of Hell's Canyon, a great dam more than 600 feet in height, of comparatively narrow design, a dam built solely for hydro-electric power. Those studies reveal that Hell's Canyon would produce more than a million kilowatts of electricity annually, one of the great developments in this country. With that electricity, it is claimed, cheap commercial fertilizer can be produced in sufficient quantities to take care of the needs of all the rich agricultural states of the Missouri Basin.

★

But Hell's Canyon is a battleground today, and chances are that it never will be built. Fifty years hence we may wonder why it was overlooked.

Return Of The Files

The long anticipated return of files belonging to the Army and for many months in the private possession of Gen. Douglas MacArthur has finally taken place. These files contain information on the Far East of great historical value and belong properly to the Army, not to any individual.

It is no secret that Gen. MacArthur's aide, Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, had a staff working for several years in Japan to prepare a history of events in that critical area. On the basis of Gen. Willoughby's record in the Far East and his subsequent pronouncements both in this country and from his villa in Spain, there is little assurance that the history undertaken in Tokyo will be historically accurate. If the files now returned to the Army are still complete, many untold stories of activities and policies in the Far East may yet come to light.

Return of the documents from Gen. MacArthur to the Military District of New York apparently was accomplished with no difficulty. "We showed him every courtesy," Army Secretary Pace is quoted as saying, "and Gen. MacArthur was equally courteous in the transfer."

That is the way it should be. Evaluation of events which have had a tremendous effect on the course of human events is not a job for partisans, but is the task of the critical analyst and historian.

'Something Peculiar' Is Not Enough

This is admittedly a far more complicated world than the one our fathers knew, or even we knew only a few years ago. The days of easy assurance of security from attack, snug behind the protective waters of two great oceans, are past. Government, business, labor—the list would be almost endless — have grown and branched and piled problem on problem until the person who seeks to be well-informed in this day must be far more assiduous than formerly was necessary.

It was this fact that brought some nostalgic observations this week from Carl R. Kesler, editor of The Quill, a magazine dedicated to the interests of journalists. He notes particularly that the job of the newspaper copyreader — the man who edits and trims news stories and writes headlines for them—has become one for skilled craftsmen. This was not always the case.

He recalls, for instance, the copyreader on the desk of a Chicago newspaper who scorned pencils and found it possible to edit copy with green ink, so sure was he of himself—and so little did he need to know. Today the copyreader is, as Kesler aptly phrased it, "the last resort of accuracy and the first reader who tries on a story for size." He is also a man who must dig deep for significant news elements. The flow of human events is not as easy to explain and interpret as it was in days past and gone, probably, forever.

"In some ways life on a Chicago copydesk in the late 20's and early 30's was relatively simple," Kesler writes as evidence of how times have changed. "Anyone could dash off a resounding eight column banner announcing that three more bullet-riddled gangsters had been found in a ditch. The New Deal and wars hot and cold have complicated copyreading. I remember the day F.D.R. devalued the dollar. None of us knew what it meant. I believe our headlines merely implied that something peculiar had happened to money."

It no longer is enough, needless to add, to tell readers that "something peculiar" is happening in the world. The task of the newspaper has become more difficult and infinitely more important if readers are to understand what is happening around and to them.

Luxury Plus On Wheels

The line is forming and there is no limit on purchases of the last word in house trailers, equipped with such necessities of life as a portable swimming pool and a flight deck for a helicopter. Price: $75,000—with no mention of how much down.

The scene was Miami Beach, where luxurious trailers were put on exhibition to an admiring group of spectators. One number, designed to "appeal to business executives," is a seven-room dream on wheels which must look like a castle rolling down the road. The company which designed it reported, in magnificent understatement, that it was "far from swamped with orders."

But the great hope, according to the man who manufactures these highway hotels, is for the future. Politicians will find the ultra-modern trailers not only impressive but a fine way to get around while trying to woo voters. They'll be comfortable and rested, it says here, even while doing a neat 50 miles an hour from town to town.

There are some interesting special features in these new trailers. They are two-deckers while on the road, but they open up to provide a top deck when parked. There is an observation lounge at the rear, just like those on trains, and for dog lovers there is a "pooch porch" which accommodates any known size dog.

No one is holding his breath, needless to say, while waiting for the first order.

The Queen And TV

The people in England are stirred up over a problem that was carried all the way to Parliament for an opinion—or, to be more specific, several opinions. Those who have the say-so have banned televising of Queen Elizabeth's coronation next June and the Isles have gone into a spasm of controversy.

The final word has not yet been heard, but some concessions have been made to the millions who hoped to watch the traditional and fabled ceremony while sitting in their living rooms. Whether the cameras will be allowed into Westminster Abbey to show the actual crowning remains to be seen.

The American formula is to allow TV cameras to poke their long noses into every nook and cranny, showing almost whatever they want to show. This applies to everything from political conventions to crime hearings and points in between. But it doesn't apply to football games, which are closely supervised and restricted when it comes to television, and it is the football plan which the British seem to prefer. If the Queen is going to sneeze, the people listening on radio may not hear her but the television cameras would catch her in the act. They're de-emphasizing the Queen, so to speak.

Nothing But The Best

The State Department, according to a news item, is preparing an office for the advance representative sent by Gen. Eisenhower. Presumably it will have all the necessary conveniences, including a built-in clerk to send notes to Sen. McCarthy.

Premier Pinay Wants To Discuss Problems

WASHINGTON.—Premier Pinay of France has thrown out feelers for an early—if not immediate—visit to the United States for a conference with Gen. Eisenhower and/or President Truman.

At stake in this visit is the entire structure of our carefully built up Western European defense. We have been so busy with our own elections that the public doesn't realize that this now hangs in the balance.

This was the reason why President Truman sent a special courier to Eisenhower last week carrying a secret communication.

Briefly, here are the reasons for Premier Pinay's proposed pilgrimage and the vital factors awaiting decision in West Europe:

1. The French are sore as blazes over our discussion of the Arab demands for North African independence at the U. N. They even threaten to pull out of NATO if we don't back them up against the Arabs.

2. The French feel they have been bled white in Indo-China and are about ready to dump this in our lap in the same way the British dumped Greece.

3. The Pinay government is in danger of being voted out of office. Yet it's one of the most efficient governments France has had and definitely pro-American. It will need political support from the U.S.A. to stay in power, and that political support will have to come either in regard to the Arabs or Indo-China.

4. A huge Chinese Communist Army is reported poised on the Indo-Chinese border. If there's peace in Korea, more troops and more material can feed the Communist "revolt" against the French.

Perhaps worst of all, and hanging over it all, is the growing anti-Americanism, growing isolationism of the French. In the same way that many Americans are getting more isolationist, so are the French. They are increasingly suspicious of Germany, are bucking the united European Army, and it looks as if the great strides toward peace and unity might go down the drain.

Divide and rule is the Kremlin's strategy, and it will take superhuman steps by an inspiring leader to weld us together again with our allies.

This is the great problem the new President will have to face for, whereas Korea is a very small war, what's happening in Europe is planting the definite seeds of another World War.

—CABINETEERS—

Sinclair Weeks, the Boston banker who came out for Eisenhower against Taft at a crucial moment before the Chicago convention, probably will not fulfill his great ambition to follow in the footsteps of his father—but he is likely to get the No. 1 diplomatic post—ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Because Eisenhower won't appoint two men to his cabinet from one state (Lodge and Weeks of Massachusetts), Weeks will probably miss the opportunity to be Secretary of Defense, an ambition he has cherished since his father, John W. Weeks, was Secretary of War in the Harding-Coolidge cabinets.

It was the elder Weeks who played an important part in the life of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, giving him a promotion at a psychological time.

MacArthur, then a brigadier general in the Philippines, anxiously watched other comrades getting promoted, finally had his then father-in-law, Edward T. Stotesbury, partner of J., P. Morgan, call on Secretary Weeks, remind him of the Stotesbury contributions to the GOP. Weeks promptly made Doug a major general.

☆ ☆ ☆

—PENTAGON SHAKE-UP—

Top generals of the Defense Department are expecting a political shake-up.

Politics isn't supposed to enter the military picture. However, everyone in the Army and Navy plays it—from the generals down to the colonel's wives—and this includes the White House, too.

In the present case, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, is expected to be eased out. "Brad" started being personally for Ike. But as the campaign progressed, he couldn't take Ike's statements about Korea, switched to Stevenson.

Bradley was Eisenhower's top field commander during the European invasion, but nettled Ike a bit with his recent book when he revealed, more frankly than any other military man, the friction with Field Marshal Montgomery during the Battle of the Bulge and the manner in which Eisenhower had appeased Monty.

Since then Ike and Brad haven't been quite so chummy.

Bradley's place as head of the joint chiefs probably will be taken by Gen. "Beetle" Smith, now head of Central Intelligence, former chief of staff to Eisenhower. Gen. Joe Collins, in turn, probably will be replaced as army chief of staff by Gen. Van Fleet, whose letter re South Korean troops played a part in the election campaign.

—VISITING IN U.S.A.—

In Ecuador, the most intriguing question of the day is: Where did Senora Velasco Ibarra, the wife of Ecuador's unpredictable president, get the money to make her present extended pleasure trip to the U.S.A.?

When Velasco returned from exile in Argentina last March, he was so destitute that backers of his candidacy had to put up the money for plane fare. His wife remained in Buenos Aires until after the June election which gave Velasco, twice president and twice overthrown for making himself dictator, a third chance to govern.

The post of chief executive in Ecuador pays 10,000 sucres or about $550 a month. Velasco had held it for less than 60 days when his spouse took off, aboard Pan American-Grace Airways' luxury flight "El Inter-Americano," for a lengthy vacation and shopping tour in New York.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Gov. Stevenson Urged To Stay In Limelight

WASHINGTON—To all who inquire about his feelings in the aftermath of defeat, Gov. Adlai Stevenson replies that he feels okay. Tired from the grueling physical ordeal, yes, but, as he phrased it in at least two of his concluding speeches in the last week of the campaign, he is satisfied that he did the very best he could.

He reminds his inquirers that he tried hard to avoid the nomination, stopping short only of a flat refusal which would have alienated his party. When the inevitable happened, he threw himself into the campaign with all possible zeal. Stevenson feels, too, that on the whole he kept within the bounds he set for himself in his Chicago acceptance speech when he said he would rather lose the presidency than bargin for votes with the coin of false promises.

As to his future, he is a lot less sure. For a few days he will rest at La Osa Ranch in Arizona, but that is only a breather before he takes on the neglected task of winding up the governorship by the end of the year.

Being a man who comes to decisions through an arduous process of soul searching, the governor is not likely to reach any hasty conclusions. He has been greatly impressed by the extraordinary volume of mail and telegrams flooding in since the election. Even more impressive, however, has been the theme of a large portion of these messages.

They have said with varying degrees of ardor that the voice of Stevenson — as the voice of reason—of understanding, of decency and moderation—must be heard in the months and years ahead. This stress is especially strong among the volunteer groups around the country. These groups were made up in most instances of amateurs and independents who worked much harder in many areas than the professional Democrats. They were working for a candidate in whom they deeply believed.

These true believers are now casting about for some kind of more or less permanent organization that would keep alive the Stevenson fire. One goal under discussion is the raising of a fund that would put Stevenson on nationwide television at least once every three months, in an analysis of national and world affairs. In that way, as his admirers see it, he could speak with complete independence.

Many who have written in this vein say they voted for Gen. Eisenhower because of the "time for a change" theme and the accumulated barnacles of a party 20 years in power. But they go on to say that they were almost persuaded in spite of previous convictions to vote for the eloquent campaigner.

Looking back at the campaign, Stevenson recounts with the irony and the humor that are part of his temperament how far the determination to keep from offering any obvious political bait led him down the path of naive innocence. Last August, as the lines of the contest were shaping up, he decided that if he won in November he would go to the Orient for a survey trip prior to the inauguration.

He wanted especially to visit Japan and Korea where he has never been. Then, as the trip was planned, he would go on to India where, as he said in his San Francisco speech on foreign policy, the key to co-operation between East and West lies. Stevenson even went so far as to discuss this tentative plan in strictest secrecy with two or three assistants who would accompany him.

But he determined not to make any public reference to such a plan lest it be thought an obvious campaign gimmick. No one could have been more surprised than Stevenson when Eisenhower in the last week picked up the proposal of one of his speech writers that he go to Korea and personally try to bring the war to an end.

Nominally Stevenson will be the head of the Democratic party. How much this will mean is open to question. As the election showed, in many areas the Democratic organization has withered away. For too long the party lived complacently on the fruits of past victories. Up to the very eve of the debacle, most of the Democratic professionals in the big cities believed, or professed to believe, that they would inevitably chalk up another win.

After January Stevenson will be without public office. If he sustains himself before the public, it will be by reason of his own qualities. In a sense, this will be no new experience it can almost be said that in the campaign he sustained himself in spite of myriad handicaps by those same pre-eminent qualities.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY:

Cat-Like Face, Swift Of Pace—What Is It?

By MONA B. PARKER

Along with 155 million other Americans, Frances Hansen of The Ruskin News sighed and relaxed. However, her post-election relaxation stemmed from an occupational point of view. . . "No more worrying about getting the names and faces in the political ads correctly matched."

Then she added caustically: "We sort of felt all along that the Democratic campaign was too Harried to make a successful bid for victory."

☆ ☆ ☆

The highly mechanized big-town polling places probably have no inkling of the problems sometimes confronting the little towns. Late election night Bassett started to run out of ballots, and soon afterward Newport called, in the same dilemma. So Editor Cliff Buckendorf and Clerk Stockwell cranked up the car and off they went with a few extra ballots that The Rock County Leader had printed—just in case.

Reminds us of an election night not so many years ago when the counting board in a smaller outlying precinct grew weary of its labors and went home and to bed while the county clerk waited on through the night. Came the dawn and the refreshed messenger arrived with the ballots. And the clerk went home and to bed.

☆ ☆ ☆

Rushville's first-graders had an election of their own on the Monday before the Tuesday. Miss McFarland asked all who would vote for Gen. Eisenhower to stand, and all but two arose. Then the Stevenson count, and the two little boys promptly stood up. Mabel Grimes, columnist for The Sheridan County Star, thought this significant inasmuch as the two youngsters were thinking for themselves and not to be influenced by the decision of the others.

"What fine independent thinkers they should make!" she declared. "America was founded by people who had convictions and stood by them."

And Arch Jarrell, in The Grand Island Independent: "The saddest sights on the landscape in the next few months will be the weather-worn and outdated election posters."

"Mook," of The Polk Progress, wasn't complaining about mud—little enough of which Nebraskans have seen the past few months. He had a dry-land story to tell about a dirt road and a friend of his who was stuck therein. . .

Getting stuck on a dry road, he called it. Bernie Land was on his way to Polk from Central City when his vehicle became high centered in one of the "ravines" in the road. And there he had to wait until he was pulled out. "Mook" himself hadn't been over what he termed the "obsolete cow path" for several weeks, but "any similarity of Highway 66 to a road is purely coincidental."

The Arapahoe Public Mirror has had to write letters of inquiry at various times regarding details of a death, but for the first time has received a reply from the supposed deceased.

The Rev. Alvin R. Lade now of Kansas but formerly of Arapahoe said that his wife had received sympathy cards and other expressions of condolence, but he was happy to say, like Mark Twain, that "reports of his death had been greatly exaggerated."

Unjust Criticism

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Are there any definite requirements in choosing staff writers who are sent to write a few paragraphs on a current amateur production? The most recent write-up was given to the Nebraska Wesleyan operetta "Song of Norway," and it is my opinion that more tickets could have been sold if this "critique" had not been printed.

First of all, the operetta did not open the Wesleyan theater season. "Cheaper By The Dozen" took that honor. Is it to the intrest of the public to have judgment passed on the qualifications of the individual voices or does that responsibility rest with the voice instructor?

In furtherance of encouragement of students to participate in such productions, wouldn't it be more to the point to express the reaction of the audience to the over-all result? Is it asking too much to give the cast a pat on the back for their efforts, even though it isn't of professional calibre? All professionals must begin some place, some time!

There is usually a fine article in the paper announcing the dates of the show, for which we are grateful; but isn't there some way to compromise on the unjust criticism that is bestowed upon us students in the arts? I feel that I can express myself on this particular show without being a bad sport since I, fortunately, was not adversely criticized. In other words, do you want to encourage college amateur productions, or discourage them?

Up To The Citizen

Alexandria, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Mr. Robert Taylor, in a letter in the Nov. 10 Star, says "there must be long-range planning" and that it must be either by Big Government or Big Business, so he is for the former. The truth is that neither Big Business nor Big Government need be given monopolistic power to say what shall be produced and how much. Under the system that preceded our present Big Government planning, each citizen was the supreme director of industry. If no citizen bought an offered product, that product was not produced any more. If a product was so attractive that thousands strove to get a supply of it, that tremendous demand upped the price temporarily so that the producer could place a huge order for labor and materials and put a big supply of it on the market. The citizen, buying or refusing to buy, directed industry.

Now Mr. Taylor says, in effect: "Don't let us citizens rule. Let Big Government decide what is to be produced and how much of each thing."

Bryan Statue

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: On Nov. 11 The Star printed a letter by Dale Johnson to which my reaction was "Hip, Hooray!" He said what I've been thinking about the Bryan statue fiasco. William Jennings Bryan was the greatest statesman ever to come from Nebraska, and it is the Nebraska state capitol which is involved, not the United States capitol at Washington, D.C. Maybe the anti-statue-ites have forgotten that.

REPUBLICAN

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The late election seems to have silenced most of us Democrats and liberals. I am pleased to note, however, that a few are recovering their breath and with it, courage and voice. Thanks to Dale Johnson for calling public attention to the threat toward removal of the Bryan statue from its proper prominent position at the capitol's north entrance.

Personally, I was never in sympathy with Bryan's fundamentalism and possibly I was among those too ill-informed to enthusiastically follow him in his fight for the free colnage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. In the last public address I listened to from this "silver-tongued orator of the Platte" (which was delivered with the speaker seated in a chair on the dais of the Fremont High School auditorium and with every available seat filled), he declared that the only reason why his free silver issue failed of adoption was because so few people ever understood it, which could be true.

However, though I was never in all things in agreement with this truly great Nebraskan, that never blinded me to the fact of his greatness. He was obviously one of the greatest statesmen the state of Nebraska has produced and as an orator, he had few equals and no superior. That his statue should adorn the steps of the capitol of Nebraska is the most appropriate honor the people of this state could have accorded this distinguished citizen who, we should never forget, like Jefferson and Lincoln was ever the champion of the rights of the common man. I am with Dale Johnson as firmly opposed to any step toward removal of the Bryan statue and I think those who will join us are legion.

Help To Communism

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Communism really thrives on national poverty and depressions. The sound policies of the Democratic administration have actually cut the ground from under the Communist hopes in the U.S.A. and have checked Communist expansion abroad. Those helping Communism are those opposing programs which offer greater prosperity for all the people.

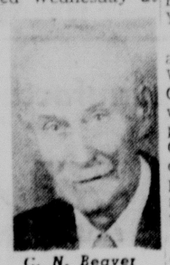
Death Claims Phone Official

YORK, Neb.—Funeral arrangements are pending for Commodore N. Beaver, 90, a former York mayor and a Nebraska telephone pioneer, who died Wednesday at Liberal, Kan., following a heart attack while en route to Arizona for the winter.



C. N. Beaver

Mr. Beaver was making the trip with his wife and his daughter, Mrs. Sadie Bishop. They were bound for Phoenix.

Mr. Beaver was a native of Illinois, coming to York in 1887. He played a leading role in development of telephone service in Nebraska. He organized the York County Telephone Company, which brought under one system most of the independent exchanges in the county. When the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., purchased the York firm in 1912 he became a director of LT&T, retaining the post until his death.

Ex-Trust Firm President

He was president of the City National Bank, which he liquidated in 1933, and was a former president of the City Trust Company.

Mr. Beaver also served a term as mayor and was a former councilman. He was a past president of the Chamber of Commerce and served as president of the Greenwood Cemetery Association for 33 years until his death.

In addition to his telephone Beaver had operated a farm in York County since his youth.

In addition to organizing the and banking interests, Mr. Waco Independent Telephone Company which he later merged with three independent companies under the York County Company, he served as president of the Fremont Independent Telephone Company and was instrumental in securing early long distance connections with Omaha.

As foreman of a construction crew, he built the first long distance lines between Seward and Grand Island.

Besides his wife, Fanny, and daughter, he is survived by a son, Sam, of York, five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Dent Hospitalized

OMAHA (AP)—George B. Dent Jr., of North Platte is in St. Joseph's Hospital in Omaha for medical teratment.

Dent said he did not know how long he would be in the hospital.

Missouri Plan Favored In Electing Judges

Governor Would Fill All Positions

OMAHA (AP)— Nebraska Bar Association members stand three-to-one in favor of the so-called "Missouri plan" of electing judges, President George Hastings of Grant, Neb., told the Nebraska Bar Association Thursday.

The Missouri plan, now described as the American Bar Association plan, calls for appointment of judges by the governor upon recommendation of a judicial advisory group. Judges so appointed would be required to run against their records in elections at stated intervals. He said a referendum among association members disclosed their stand.

Hastings said a vigorous campaign will be needed to get the coming legislature to put the proposal on the ballot in the next election as a proposed constitutional amendment.

He also called for a referendum among Nebraska lawyers on a proposed plan to change the bar association from the "town meeting" type of organization to a House of Delegates system modeled after the American Bar Association.

NU CHANCELLOR ATTENDS MEET—Chancellor R. G. Hannah, president of Michigan State College; and Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Penn State and brother of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower. Chancellor Gustavson spoke to the general session before 700 educational leaders concerning the role of land-grant colleges in research.

Tax Claims Against Underworld Now Total 161 Million

WASHINGTON (INS) — Racket-busting U. S. Treasury agents Thursday made public a secret report showing that they filed tax and penalty claims totaling more than 12 million dollars against underworld figures in September.

The claims bring to nearly 161 million dollars the total amount sought by the Internal Revenue Bureau in its "tax war" against the underworld during 17 months of special investigation of racketeers.

The September claims included eight million dollars in back income taxes and four million in jeopardy assessments designed to tie up a taxpayer's income while he is under government scrutiny.

An element of mystery arose in connection with the report, which was marked "restricted." When newsmen discovered the existence of the document, internal revenue officials asked that it be suppressed.

However, a bureau spokesman later said the secrecy label resulted from a "misunderstanding" and announced that similar reports would be made available regularly for publication in the future.

No names were revealed in the report on the September cases, in which the statistical breakdown was as follows:

Back taxes and fraud cases totaled 350, involving $5,936,441; 244 cases of back taxes and negligence penalties involved $1,671,245; 305 cases were closed with no change in tax due the government; 278 cases were eliminated from the racketeer classification, and in 198 cases the bureau found over-assessments totaling $1,928.

The report said that 31 cases, involving 27 defendants, were referred to the Justice Department for possible criminal fraud prosecution, making a 17-month total of 319 cases involving 229 defendants turned over to the prosecuting agency.

Since the anti-racketeer drive began in April, 1951, the Treasury agents have closed 24,501 investigations, leaving a present backlog of 17,667.

Copter Falls; 2 Die

BEVERLY, Mass. (INS)—Two coast guard airmen died Thursday when their helicopter skimmed over the tops of 35 houses in Beverly and exploded in a back yard.

The plane did not endanger the lives of any of the residents.

The helicopter, from the coast guard air station at Salem, began to lose altitude over Beverly. The motor sputtered and kicked before the aircraft crashed. There was no fire after the explosion.

Wreckage from the craft, which turned upside down, was strewn over a 50-foot area. Bodies of the airmen were removed from the cabin.

Martin Urges Ike Contact MacArthur On Asiatic Issues

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts suggested Thursday that President-elect Eisenhower seek the advice of Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Asiatic problems.

Martin, slated to be House speaker in the new Congress, said he believed Eisenhower would seek advice "from anyone who has knowledge and experience, and certainly Gen. MacArthur is experienced in Asiatic affairs."

"And it wasn't until recently that schools would admit students with any sort of speech handicap," he added.

Dr. Logan, who took doctorate degree work in Mexico, pointed out that "speech correction (there) is just in its beginning phases, and in Mexico City, it is concentrated in large children's hospitals."

Legal Block May Stop $30,000 Grant To City For Building

The State Aeronautics Commission has been presented with a legal stumbling block which may prevent it from granting Lincoln the $30,000 the city requested for help in developing a new terminal building at the reactivated Air Force Base.

The legal block was presented by Attorney Art Whitworth who appeared before the Commission in opposition to the grant as "holder of a private pilot's license and a somewhat extensive user of an airplane and airports of Nebraska in my business."

Whitworth told the Commission that it could not legally grant the request because "state funds cannot be expended on any project which is not under the supervision of your department and secondly, under the law your department is not permitted to participate in any airport or navigation facilities to which the public does not have equal and uniform use.

"The proposed new terminal building will only serve the commercial air lines or a restricted or limited part of the public."

The Commission has asked the state attorney general for a legal ruling in the matter before acting.

The city asked for the $30,000 on the grounds that the reactivation of the Base has "placed an unusual obligation on the City of Lincoln."

The city's report showed the reactivation required Lincoln to provide new administration facilities for commercial airlines at another location on the field and to make extensive improvements at Union Airport for use by private fliers.

$464,538 Estimate

The cost estimate presented by the city at Municipal Airport was $464,538. Major items are the new administration building, $182,000; aircraft parking apron and taxiways, $127,188; access highway, $33,900 and administration site grading $30,000.

Improvements at Union were estimated at $182,700. Major items there are 36 T-hangars, $90,000 and runway extensions, $75,000.

Mayor Victor E. Anderson who presented the city's report stated that the $30,000 requested from the Commission would be used at Municipal Airport.

Anderson pointed out that all costs from the reactivation total $647,238. The City of Lincoln, he said, is spending $200,000 while the Chamber of Commerce has raised $400,000 through private subscriptions to help finance the improvements.

Representing the city before the Commission were Anderson, Councilman Chauncey W. D. Kinsey, City Engineer D. L. Erickson, Arch J. Baley, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Emmet Junge, Chamber president, and Selmer A. Solheim, the architect for the new terminal building.

2 Men Rob Bank To Recoup Losses

ANTIOCH, Ill. (INS) — Two men who claimed they were trying to recoup losses on the recent presidential election robbed an Antioch (Ill.) bank of an estimated $3,000 to $7,000 Thursday but were captured less than an hour later at McHenry, Ill.

Most, if not all, of the money taken from the First National Bank of Antioch was recovered, according to State Police Supt. Tom O'Donnell.

The state police official (at Springfield) identified the men captured as Herbert W. Morrison, 41, and Arthur Ubanks, 32, both of whom had checked out of a Chicago hotel earlier in the day.

The same bank was held up on March 3, 1950, by two men and a woman who escaped with $5,253. They were captured and sentenced to prison.

Eisenhower And Dewey To Meet Today

Stage Is Set For White House Talk

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey meeting here Friday, will talk over international and domestic problems likely to come up for discussion at the general's conference with President Truman next Tuesday.

Eisenhower aids said there probably will be no formal agenda for the session with the New York governor, but that matters expected to be explored at the White House meeting will be studied.

The general's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, announced Thursday that the President-elect will leave Augusta Tuesday morning by plane for Washington. The conference with Truman is set for the afternoon.

Acheson To Attend

In Washington, meanwhile, qualified informants said Secretary of State Acheson and other Cabinet officials will sit in at the Eisenhower-Truman meeting.

Hagerty said he did not know whether Eisenhower plans to have any of his aids at the conference.

Immediately after the meeting Eisenhower will fly to New York and go to his Columbia University residence at 60 Morningside Drive.

Present indications are that he will remain in New York until he leaves for Korea—and the date of departure for the war zone still has not been fixed, Hagerty repeated in a reply to a fresh barrage of questions from newsmen.

No Policy Stand

Eisenhower has been vacationing at the Augusta National Golf Club for the last week. The only appointment he has scheduled prior to leaving for Washington Tuesday is with Dewey.

At the White House conference, Eisenhower reportedly will steer clear of any policy commitments to Truman. Last Saturday the general authorized a statement by Hagerty which said in effect that the outgoing administration would have to take full responsibility for any decisions made between now and Inauguration Day, Jan. 20.

The general got in another round of golf Thursday. Friday is Mrs. Eisenhower's 56th birthday, and Hagerty said the general is planning a private family party for her at the golf club.

NEW GOVERNOR'S HOME?—This is a view of the home of the late Frank H. Woods Sr., at 2501 Sheridan, which may become the new home for Nebraska's governors. (Star Photo.)

Nebraska's Governors Have Resided In Present Mansion For Over 50 Years

After half a century, Nebraska may get a different mansion for its governors.

State Historical Society records show that the present mansion at 1445 H, was purchased in 1899 from Dr. E. Thompson for $21,385.

The new mansion in which the next governor may live is a spacious 25-room, stucco-on-masonry structure located on a 5-acre tract in one of Lincoln's most beautiful residential sections.

It is the home of the late Frank H. Woods Sr., at 2501 Sheridan, which may be donated by the Woods family if legal hurdles are cleared.

A spacious living room is on the east side. The keyboard of the home's $50,000 pipe organ is located in the room, which is wood paneled and hung with drapes.

A garden room is south of the living room. This room and a front hall open into a covered patio.

Other first floor rooms include a large kitchen, butler's pantry, wood paneled library and a dining room.

A billiard room is in the basement. The second floor consists mainly of sleeping rooms. A ballroom is on the third floor.

Minerva's Mail

Yesterday, I had a letter from Confused telling about a friend with whom she had had five or six dates, but who hadn't called her in quite some time. Confused asked me whether she should call him or whether she should continue looking for him at his home and place of business.

Well, Confused, if I were you, I would forget about this young man. Perhaps he will call again, but in the mean time, you should find other interests which will help you forget this friend, and he evidently considered you a friend in spite of the fact that you fell in love with him. Go out on dates with other men; build up your friendship with other girls. In fact, find as many outside interests as possible, and the first thing you know, this young man will be forgotten.

Don't call him, Confused, and don't make your presence around places where he is, conspicious. If he is as interested in you as you are in him, he will surely call you soon, and if he isn't, you will just increase your own misery by calling him, or by looking for him. I know this all sounds hard to do, Confused, but I'm sure that if you will follow my advice, you will be much happier in time to come.

I have another letter this morning but the problem is quite different. This one comes from a girl who is a sophomore in high school and here is her problem.

Dear Minerva:

I am a sophomore in high school and go steady with a boy who is a senior. He is a very nice boy, except for one thing. Practically all he ever wants to do is neck. We go to a dance at some one's house and before half of the evening is over he finds a dark corner where we can neck. If we go to a movie, he always wants to go early so we will have time to park afterwards. I like him very much and used to have fun with him, but I would like to know what I should do about this habit of his.

Gay Spirit Is Important

By JOHN POWERS

Achieve distinction as a hostess and you'll rate tops among your friends. It's an easier thing to do than many women think. Food, decorations, and the spic and spanness of your home are not the crucial factors of successful entertaining. What it takes to put a party over, whether you are entertaining a few or a crowd, are gay spirits and a relaxed attitude on the part of the party givers. Guests are especially sensitive to the mood of the hostess. Let yourself get into a dither and the tension will spread to your family, your helpers and guests. Then your anticipated fun will be conspicuously absent.

The secret of entertaining without a flurry is thoughtful planning ahead. By issuing invitations well in advance, you'll be sure of snagging your most popular guests. Select guests with kindred spirits, tastes and interests. Just one uncongenial guest can ruin the party. Invite him or her another time with a crowd you know he or she will enjoy. In selecting guests, ask no more than you can comfortably house and serve. Several small parties are better than one big one that causes a crush and service strain.

The next step is to plan refreshments and decorations down to the last detail. Plan your entertainment just as carefully: For bridge or canasta fans, have everything necessary at hand; if it's a group of fast-talking conversationalists, arrange seating with that in mind. Just be sure that for a musical evening you don't sort out classical records to entertain your be-bop friends or vice versa. And never plan a taffy pull for the dressy or sedate crowd.

Success Assured

One of the most successful hostesses I know who "loves to have people in her house" makes a rule of keeping refreshments uncomplicated and simple. She could easily swing a white orchid centerpiece and humming bird tongues for a crowd. Instead, simple buffet suppers, and never more than a three-course dinner are her forte. Of course, a touch or two of originality is always welcome, but it is better to cleave to the traditional than let yourself be caught in a trap of cute, fussy or bizarre gimmicks.

Make all the preparations you can at least a day before any party—and that includes your clothes and your personal grooming!

Introducing— The Harold Houskes

Just getting settled in his job as attorney for the U.S. department of agriculture in Lincoln is Mr. Houske, who has brought his wife and two-year-old Jimmy all the way back to the midwest from Washington D. C. The Houskes, who are living at 1338 D street, have been here just a month but do think Lincoln a fine city in which to live and bring up one's family!

Both Mr. and Mrs. Houske are graduates of Augustana College in Sioux Falls, S. D., where Mrs. Houske majored in library science. A native of Dawson, Minn., she also did extensive graduate work in her major at Catholic University in the District of Columbia. When Mr. Houske was studying toward his law degree at the University of Iowa, his wife worked in the Iowa City public library.

Mr. Houske is a native of Madison, S. D., and was a member of Delta Theta Phi at Iowa. Since the young couple was at the university there just at the peak of the housing shortage, they set up housekeeping in a trailer! In such an informal setting, they made fun-loving friends, many of whom accompanied them to Washington where the entire group went into government work!

Lincoln is not entirely strange to either of these attractive young people, for not only did Mrs. Houske come to the University of Nebraska for a "change of scenery" but her husband also was stationed here at one time during the war as a first lieutenant in the Air Force.

Defense Department Balks At A Production Czar

Lovett Has Strong 'No'

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Defense Department hit back Thursday at a Senate committee suggestion that a production czar be named to direct this nation's defense build-up. The department said pointedly that such a czar "is neither required nor recommended."

In a memorandum made public by Secretary Lovett, the department took a series of swipes at this and other recommendations set forth by the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex).

The Johnson "watchdog" committee had proposed that the President or the defense secretary appoint a full-time production czar who would have the power to fix priorities and freeze the design of weapons.

Lovett said in his memorandum to Johnson that the Joint Chiefs of Staff see no need for any czar and that the services determine their own priorities on the basis of requirements of strategic plans worked out by the joint chiefs.

And, said Lovett:

"We could not make a greater military mistake than to freeze designs of aircraft at this time."

He added that the department already has a production expediter.

The memorandum was prepared by officials of the armed forces, Munitions Board, the joint chiefs and other agencies. Lovett gave his personal endorsement to each of the individual statements by the agencies.

Gov. Stevenson Is One Considered As Colorado U Head

BOULDER, Colo., (INS)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois Thursday was listed for consideration as president of the University of Colorado.

A faculty committee to recommend a successor for Robert L Stearns, who resigned to accept the chairmanship of the multimillion dollar Boettcher Charitable Foundation, has been presented with Stevenson's name.

The committee has been accepting recommendations from faculty members, alumni and others. A university spokesman who refused to be named said there was strong support, particularly among the alumni, for the Illinois Governor.

E. Shelden Hallett is the new president-elect of the Lincoln Kiwanis Club. He will succeed H. C. Henderson, retires from office next Jan. 1.

Hallett will become the first "second-generation president" in the history of the Lincoln club. His father, the late Hugh Hallett, served as president in 1945.

Wayne C. Farmer was named vice president-elect and Curry W. Watson re-elected secretary by the 1953 board of directors meeting Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce. Watson has served as club secretary since 1921.

The club makes its annual "Distinguished Service Medal Award for 1952" at its regular meeting on Nov. 21.

Bryan Statue Placement Said OnlyTemporary

Because he received "one or two letters and a few telephone calls" which he termed "No tidal wave," Gov. Val Peterson said Thursday he did not want to leave office without calling it to the attention of interested parties that his agreement for the erection of the W. J. Bryan statue at the north entrance of the Capitol was on a "temporary basis."

He called attention to the fact that the Bryan Memorial Commission was authorized by the legislature in 1941 with the members to be named jointly by the governor and the secretary of the Nebraska Historical Society.

Harold J. Requartte, treasurer, called the governor's attention to the fact that the chairman of the commission which had the statue made and erected, N. Bruce Shurtleff, has since died. The governor found other vacancies on the committee which he said will be filled immediately. Only member remaining besides Requartte, the governor said, he believes is Mrs. Mary Allen.

"It would be contemptible to put it on a political basis," the governor commented on differences of opinion as to the permanent location. He said its location if kept on the Capitol grounds should be with consideration for the "design and beauty of the building and grounds and what is proper."

Children's Program At City Library To Feature Boxer Dog

Meetings Set On Plans For Niobrara

State Engineer Harold Aitken said Thursday four public hearings will be held next month on Bureau of Reclamation plans for development of the Niobrara River Basin.

The dates: O'Neill, Dec. 16; Ainsworth, Dec. 17; Valentine, Dec. 18; and Gordon, Dec. 19.

Dan S. Jones Jr., chief of the Nebraska bureau of irrigation, will preside.

The proposal covers 14 related operating units which would provide 200,000,000 kilowat hours of electric energy annually and provide for irrigation of 144,000 acres.

Reclamation bureau officials will attend the meetings to explain the development plans.

Reclamation bureau officials estimate the total cost of the proposed Niobrara basin development at 215 millions.

Vets To Be Paid For All Class Time

The Veterans Administration office in Lincoln announced that all vets training under the Korean G.I. Bill will receive their allowance checks from the date they began classes, even though the state has delayed approval of the school.

Back-dating of school approvals was authorized by the V.A. so that vets in training can be paid for all the time they spent in the classroom, so long as it was after Aug. 20, 1952, the date the new G.I. training program became effective.

State approval of the school, however, is a "must" under the Korean G.I. Bill. The law states that veterans may not receive G.I. education and training allowances for any period during which the school was not approved. The retroactive approval may go back to either the Aug. 20 date, or when the vets enrolled in class, whichever came later.

The Veterans Administration, however, points out that even though a veteran may be entitled to the retroactive payments, he can't get his money until after the state has approved his school.

Two provisos, though, are that the state must check the school no later than Dec. 1, 1952, and secondly, it must be determined if the school meets all the standards of training set up in the law, and must certify this fact to the Veterans Administration.

Denny Costin, slight, speedy Cathedral halfback, blasted his way to the top spot in the 1952 city scoring race and paced his Bluebird teammates to a 19-6 victory over St. Cecilia of Hastings at the College View field Thursday night.

Driving Denny tallied three touchdowns to overtake and pass Dick McWilliams of Lincoln High, the former leader. Costin now owns 72 points—all on touchdowns—to McWilliams's 70.

With the Links' season already concluded, Costin reigns as the 1952 city scoring champion.

The victory enabled Coach Vince Aldrich's Bluebirds—playing their first season of 11-man ball after a dozen-year span as one of the top six-man clubs in the state—to finish the season with a six-won, three-lost record.

The size of the score fails to give a true picture of the difference between the two clubs. After striking for a pair of quick TDs in the first quarter, the Aldrichmen went on the defensive for much of the remainder of the game. They were outrushed by the visitors, 212 yards to 193.

Fumbles induced by hard tackling set up the first two Bluebird tallies. Early in the period St. Cecelia Quarterback Jerry Buttell fumbled on his own 28, where the Bluebirds recovered.

Costin rolled to the five on the first play: Fullback Dave Kubitschek bulled to the one, after which Costin twirled over.

After a fumble recovery on the St. Cecelia 30, Cathedral needed seven plays to get to the 11, where Quarterback Joe Clark flipped to Costin in the end zone.

Costin cinched the scoring record late in the third period when he slammed across from the four to cap a drive which started from the St. Cecelia 35, where Buttell's eight-yard punt had gone out of bounds.

Stan Peters plunged for Cathedral's only successful conversion of the evening.

Aided by a five-yard penalty, the Hastings club needed just three plays to go for 74 yards and a touchdown midway in the 4th heat.

Jerry Gerhart ran 33 yards to the Bluebird 36. Buttel cracked off tackle for six more and then Fullback Francis Gauthier thudded over his own left guard and rambled 30 yards to pay dirt.

Steve Friend, St. Cecilia guard, suffered undetermined injuries late in the third period. After examination on the field by a physician, he returned to Hastings.

St. Cecilia	0	0	0	6	—6
Cathedral	12	0	7	0	—19

St. Cecilia's scoring: TD—Gauthier.
Cathedral scoring: TD—Costin 3. PAT—Peters (plunge).

Viewmen End Season

College View faces Valley tonight at 8 o'clock on the CV gridiron, 44th and Calvert Sts., in the windup game of the Capital City prep football season.

On the basis of season records, the Viewmen rate a slight edge. They've won three and lost five while their Eastern Nebraska Eight Conference foe has dropped five, won two and tied one.

CITY SCORING LEADER—Denny Costin, speedy Cathedral halfback, falls across the goalline to score his third touchdown against St. Cecilia's of Hastings and his 72nd point of the season to take over the lead in the city scoring race. Two unidentified St. Cecilia tacklers fail to stop Costin in time. At right is Cathedral Quarterback Joe Clark. Cathedral won, 19-6. (Star Photo.)

Cornhuskers Prep For Varied Gopher Offenses

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Coach J. William Glassford of the Nebraska Cornhuskers paused Thursday and gave a capsule preview of what he expects Saturday from Minnesota.

"They have a dangerous, versatile attack and, if we are able to stop all phases of it, we must be extremely alert," commented Uncle Bill.

That much off his chest, he hustled his Huskers outdoors for a lengthy offensive polishing.

In tying Purdue last week-end, the Gophers used the single wing, spread, split-T and straight-T formations. Glassford fears all four.

Minnesota was to arrive today by chartered plane at 4:30. Although the illegal parlay people tab the Gophers by one touchdown, such authorities as Harold Classen of Associated Press and the Sporting News are favoring Nebraska.

After a brief limber-up Friday, the Huskers will head for their Friday night headquarters at Ag College.

To offset the loss (scholastic) of Dennis Emanuel, Glassford named four ends for starting offensive duty.

Offensively, he will open with Emil Radik and Andy Loehr. Defensively, it'll be Bill Schabacker and Jerry Yeager. Probable starting lineups for both teams include:

Nebraska offense: Loehr and Radik, ends; George Prochaska and Harvey Goth, tackles; Kay Curtis and Charles Bryant, guards; Bob Oberlin, center; John Bordogna, quarterback; Bob Reynolds and Dierks Rolston, halfbacks; and George Cifra, fullback.

Nebraska defense: Schabacker and Yeager, ends; Jerry Minnick and Ed Husmann, tackles; Max Kitzelman and Don Boll, guards; Carl Brasee and Verl Scott, linebackers; Dan Brown and Bob Smith, halfbacks; and Charles Chamley, safety.

Minnesota offense: Bob McNamara and Bob Rutford, ends; Ronald Hansen and Dave Drill, tackles; Burnham Elton and Harry Coates, guards; Scott Prescott,, center; Don Swanson, quarterback; Paul Giel and Joe Meighen, halfbacks, and Ronald Wallin, fullback.

Minnesota defense: Roger French and Phil McElroy, ends; Gordon Holz and Stavros Canakes, tackles; Percy Zachary, guard; Dick Dargis, Jerry Helgeson and Charles Stamschror, linebackers; Laurence Schmitt and Geno Cappelletti, halfbacks, and McNamara, safety.

Game officials will be Ron Gibbs, St. Thomas, referee; Ernie Vick, Michigan, umpire; George Bourrette, Wesleyan, linesman, and Joe Sawicki, Indiana, judge.

Chief Minnesota threat comes in the form of All-American candidate, Halfback Paul Giel, whose season's efforts are comparable to those of Nebraska's John Bordogna.

Giel has carried the ball 148 times in seven games for a rushing gain of 492 yards, an average of 3.3 yards per try. Bordogna has carried on 131 occasions in eight contests for a net of 495 and an average of 3.8 per rush.

The Gopher triple-threater has tossed 67 passes for 28 completions and 322 yards; Bordogna has completed 29 of 67 for 528 yards.

Giel also is Minnesota's top punter with a 36-yard average on 43 boots.

Teamwise, the game averages look like this: Minnesota rushing 151.1 yards, passing 87.4, total offense 238.7.

Nebraska rushing 250.8, passing 88.9, total offense 339.6.

The Huskers have allowed their foes only 119.5 yards per game on the ground and 95.1 yards through the air for a total defensive average of 214.6 yards.

Minnesota opponents have gained an average of 240.6 yards by rushing and 123.9 yards by passing or a total average of 364.4 yards per contest.

Besides Giel, the chief Minnesota ground gainer has been Fullback John Baumgartner with 236 yards and an average of 4-yards per carry. Quarterback Don Swanson has pitched 14 completions in 42 pass attempts for 290 yards.

Besides Bordogna, the Cornhusker offensive power lies in Halfbacks Bob Reynolds and Bob Smith and Fullbacks George Cifra and Ray Novak. Cifra has netted 394 yards by rushing, Reynolds 374, Novak 276 and Smith 167. Records:

York College Hits Sioux Falls, 19-13

YORK, Neb. (AP)—York College polished off its 1952 football season with a 19 to 13 defeat of Sioux Falls, S. D. College here Thursday evening.

Gale Cook, 195-pound fullback bulled over for York's first touchdown and led the way to the home team's best gains until the end of the first half when he left the game with a twisted ankle.

Sioux Falls kept the ball flying in a passing attack but clicked on only 11 of 24 attempts.

York, on the other hand, tried 11 and made seven including two touchdown tosses by Don Megill.

Plainsmen Leave For Springfield

Thirty-five Nebraska Wesleyan University Plainsmen are making the season's final jaunt to Springfield, Mo., Coach Roy Robertson said Thursday night.

The Wesleyan contingent of players, four coaches and Team Physician Francis Neumayer, were scheduled to leave by bus early this (Friday) morning and to arrive in Springfield late Friday afternoon.

Among the travelers but with a question mark still hanging over his status is Don Allely, fine Plainsmen linebacker, whose return to active defensive duty four weeks ago signalled an uprising that has netter four straight victories.

Allely suffered a bruised back muscle in last Friday's contest with Midland college which Dr. Neumayer termed of the "painful but not serious variety." Neumayer said a final on Allely's status will be made after the light workout in Springfield early tonight.

The Wesleyan-Southwest Missouri State game is carded as an afternoon affair, beginning at 2 p.m.

Members of the traveling squad:

Ends—Bob Barry, Paul Horner, Gordon Marts, Dick Hagele, Don Schlichtmeier, Jim Shaw, Merlin Wiltfang.

Tackles—Bruce Barger, Wendell Carriker, Mack Hunt, John Lauer, Ervin Unvert, Durward VanCleave.

Guards—Bob Becker, Charles Linke, Douglas Lund, Ronnie Nelson, Elaine Rieke, Bob Witham.

Centers—Walt Garner, Curtis Georgeson, Boyd Thompson.

Backs—Wes Hultquist, Sanford Nelson, Glenn Reed, Bill Buck, Dick Giles, Marvin Macy, Bill Story, Rod Washington, Cliff Kahl, Bob Wichert, Ron Keefer, Bob Lawson, Bil Minchow, Vernon Ellis.

K-State May Get NCAA Playoffs

KANSAS CITY (INS)—Kansas State College was mentioned as the possible successor of Kansas City as a site of one of the NCAA regional cage tournaments.

NCAA headquarters announced that the regional playoffs will be held March 13-14. This eliminates Kansas City because the NAIB national tourney is set for March 9-14 in Municipal Auditorium.

However, the city may get the NCAA finals, scheduled for March 17-18.

BACK in the soothsaying business after a parade of upsets, we've learned a lesson. Never bet against the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Such upstarts as the Huskers, Notre Dame and Washington sent ghosts of an upset tracing across this corner last Saturday.

Minnesota is favored tomorrow and rightly so. The Gophers' defeat of Purdue and tie of Illinois would entitle them to a one touchdown margin.

Yet the Gophers, like the Huskers, are basically a sophomoric team, apt to make costly mistakes. Well-wrapped up in Big Ten business, Minnesota is apt to take this one lightly and that in itself could be a fatal mistake.

Nebraska 20, Minnesota 14!—A vote of confidence to a superior Husker defensive line and the notion that Nebraska's attack, sparked by John Bordogna and the rejuvenated Robert Reynolds, can penetrate. We predict that Mr. Paul Giel and the host of Gopher backs will be seeing as tough a defensive line as Purdue, Illinois or any of the Big Ten schools could muster. Minnesota passing, in the final analysis, might decide this one. All depends whether the Husker aerial barricades can equal the showing at Lawrence.

Whoa! If the Huskers suffer a letdown in any given department, it could be as bad as:

Minnesota 34, Nebraska 14!

Oklahoma 27, Missouri 13—One of the toughest of the year for the Sooners. Mizzou's defense is tough to pierce.

Kansas 34, Oklahoma A. & M. 13—Jayhawks bounce back from Husker defeat.

Colorado 33, Kansas State 7—Simply too much of everything and the Wildcats are badly battered. Elsewhere:

Baseball Writers Extend Honor To A's Portside Hurler By 'Landslide' Vote

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Shantz, the Philadelphia A's pint-sized pitching marvel, Thursday won the American League most valuable player award by a landslide vote.

The talented little lefty, who led the league with a 24-7 won-and-lost record, received 16 first place votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association — three from each American League city.

Allie Reynolds, Yankee pitching ace, polled four firsts and Mickey Mantle, his sensational outfield mate, drew three firsts to finish second and third behind Shantz.

The only other first place ballot went to Nelson Fox, Chicago's tobacco-chawin' second baseman, who finished seventh in the point totals.

Shantz, who now claims Lincoln as his official residence, and Fox were teammates on the 1948 Lincoln A's club, bossed by Manager Jimmy DeShong.

On the basis of 14 points for a first place vote, nine for second and so on down to one for tenth, Shantz totalled 280 points, almost 100 more than Reynolds' runnerup 183. Mantle was a close-up third with 143, followed by Yankee Yogi Berra, most valuable player in 1951, whose 104 points gave him fourth spot.

Cleveland spotted four men in the first 10, including the Tribe's three 20-game winners — Early Wynn (23-12), Bob Lemon (22-11), and Mike Garcia 22-11). Wynn was fifth, Lemon eighth and Garcia ninth. Al Rosen, thumping third baseman with 28 homers and 105 runs batted in, rounded out the Cleveland contingent in 10th place.

Ferris Fain, A's first baseman and batting champ for the second successive year, finished sixth in the voting.

Shantz beat the world champion Yankees four times and whipped Cleveland three times with his darting knuckler. His strikeout total of 152 was second only to Reynolds' 161. Shantz was the first pitcher to win most valuable honors in the American since Hal Newhouser of Detroit in 1944-45.

A broken bone in his left wrist, suffered in the final week of the season, cost Shantz a chance to face the Yankees in their final series when New York clinched the pennant.

Nobody was mentioned on all of the ballots cast by the 24 committee members. Closest was Shantz who missed only one. In addition to his 16 firsts, he drew four seconds, one third, one fourth and a sixth.

SHANTZ AMERICAN'S MOST VALUABLE — Bobby Shantz, pint-sized Philadelphia Athletics pitcher, holds a baseball in New York Thursday night after learning that he had been voted the most valuable player in the American League for the 1952 season. Overhauling THE NEWS
By WALLY DeBROWN

Well, it was a wild and wooly election, but at least everybody's vote counted. Which reminds me that over in Poland they held national elections a few weeks ago . . . and the citizens didn't have any more choice than a duck in a shooting gallery.

All the candidates belonged to one Communist party . . . which made the voting simpler, and the results as cut and dried as a string of red chili peppers. There was no opposition, but any voter who objected to a candidate could step inside a screened booth and cross off the candidate's name. If he dared. That's a greased poll if I ever heard of one.

Pointed comment of the week . . . It's a lot easier to talk to our mechanics about your car brakes than it is to try to explain them to a traffic cop. In fact, our mechanics are exceedingly courteous and a lot less expensive. Whether you need new brake linings or just a simple adjustment, let our expert mechanics do the job for you. Minden Hits Broken Bow

Whippets Trip Indians, 34-7, To Snag Crown

Lincoln Star Special

BROKEN BOW — The Minden Whippets left little doubt as to the top team in Class B here Thursday afternoon as they pummeled the Broken Bow Indians, 34-7, to win the Trans-Nebraska Conference title.

Battling for the Class B pinnacle as well as the conference title, the unbeaten Whippets struck for two markers in the first period, another in the second, and two more in the third stanza.

The previously unbeaten Indians, who had roared to eight victories this season, produced the games first scoring after four and a half minutes when Berl Spencer hit Doyle Francis with a touchdown pass that covered 69 yards.

With Joe Brown going the last fifteen yards, the Whippets roared back to climax a 60 yard drive. Brown set up the tally when he broke loose for 39 yards on the first play from scrimmage.

Taking advantage of a recovered fumble on the Broken Bow 27, the Whippets added their second marker just before the quarter closed. A pass from Jim Bjorklund to Jack Schwenke moved the ball to the 15 to set up Jerry Brown's dash to pay dirt.

Taking a Broken Bow punt on their own 44, the Whippets drove for 56 yards for their third marker, with Jerry Brown going the last two yards.

Defensive halfback Stan Meyer provided the Whippets with their last two scoring chances when he intercepted Spencer's passes on the 47 and 22 yard lines.

After taking over on the Indians' 47, Bjorklund moved the ball to the 43, before Jerry Brown cut over left tackle for a 43 yard scoring romp.

Meyer managed to scamper back to the Indians' 11 on his last pass interception, from where Jerry Brown went the last four yards on the third play from scrimmage.

The Indians, stymied on the ground, clicked for 11 of 34 pass attempts for 241 yards. Minden piled up 239 yards with their flashy running attack.

Score by quarters:

Minden	13	7	14	0	34
Broken Bow	7	0	0	0	7

Scoring — For Minden: Joe Brown, Jerry Brown (4) PAT — Jensen (4). For Broken Bow: Doyle Francis. PAT — Armstrong.

...For Nebraska Game

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minnesota football travelling roster was posted Thursday with only one new name among the regulars.

He was Ray Ammentorp, a sophomore guard from Withee, Wis., who will be making his first road trip when the Gophers fly to Lincoln to meet Nebraska Saturday.

Fesler scheduled a morning practice Friday before the team takes off and then no workout is set before the game at Lincoln. The Gophers are expected back in Minneapolis at 9:30 Saturday night.

AMES, Ia. — The Iowa State football team emphasized passing and running offense in a light drill. The Cyclones have a lengthy scrimmage on tap for Friday.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Coach Don Faurot named 36 members of the University of Missouri football squad to go to Norman Friday and play the University of Oklahoma Saturday for the Big Seven Conference championship.

He said three of them—all regular starters—probably won't play. They are Bill Rowekamp, halfback; Bob Castle, guard, and Don Rutter, tackle.

Air Base Housing Contract To Go To Olson Co.

Broer Low Bid Nullified

Olson Construction Company of Lincoln will be awarded the contract to construct four-family and one-family units at the Lincoln Air Force Base after the low bid of another Lincoln firm was turned down.

Broer Construction Company's low bid of $66,403.81 on one proposal and $61,135.76 on another was nullified because they were "not responsive," a spokesman for the Omaha district office of the Army Corps of Engineers said Thursday.

The Broer bid "failed to include all items," he explained. "Utilities and exterior work, such as grading, sodding and driveways were omitted." Also the bid was not modified to meet last minute changes announced by the Corps.

The spokesman said the Olson bid of $85,600 for the units with garages would get the award. The non-garage bid was $80,667.

Only the Broer bid was below the Corps' estimates of $79,737 for the units with garages and $74,507 on the non-garage alternate.

The one-family dwelling will be designated for the base's commanding general, the spokesman predicted. The four-family unit will probably be available to command staff officers. Number of rooms or a cost breakdown was not immediately available.

Other bidders were:

Anderson Construction Co., Lincoln — $87,431 and $82,851.

Cook Construction Co. Lincoln — $97,103 and no bid on alternate.

Southern Painting Co., Topeka, Kan. — $103,571 and $98,336.

The next bid for Lincoln air-base construction will be Friday, 2:30 p.m., on a general warehousing, paint, oil, and grease building.

Others will be Nov. 21, construction of bachelor officers quarters; Nov. 26, airmen's club; Dec. 3, railway trackage and spurs on the base; and Dec. 30, airmen's dormitories, mess hall, and administration building.

945 Medical Men Asked In January Armed Forces Call

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Thursday a January call for 544 physicians, 383 dentists and 18 veterinarians.

This is the first time the Department has requested the call up of veterinarians.

The January request brings the total number of physicians called to 3 238 and the number of dentists to 1,637.

Historic Cathedral Is Stripped Of Nine Priceless Paintings

BARDSTOWN, Ky (INS)—A historical Cathedral was stripped Thursday of nine priceless and irreplaceable religious paintings.

The robbery of the St. Joseps's Roman Catholic Cathedral in Bardstown was discovered by the Rev. Joseph Howard French, assistant pastor Thursday morning.

Among the paintings stolen from their frames were three said to be the work of old masters.

They were identified by Msgr. James H. Willett as "The Flaying of St. Bartholomew" by Reubens; "The Coronation" by Murillo and "The Descent of the Holy Ghost" by Van Eyck.

The robbers cut the paintings from the frames.

Governor 'Knows Nothing' About Talk Of Post In Eisenhower Administration

"I know nothing about it," Gov. Val Peterson said of speculation by columnists and others that he would receive a high administrative post, possibly in the cabinet, when Gen. Dwight Eisenhower becomes president in January. The governor's term expires at that time.

"I have never talked with him about appointments," the governor continued. "Speculation is one of the interesting phases of Journalism.

"However, I would consider it an honor to serve with the general in any capacity he thought proper, assuming among other things that I could afford to do so."

Questioned specifically if he had under consideration any offers from private industry the governor said there are "some things in the mill."

Gov. Stevenson On Week's Vacation

TUCSON, Ariz. (INS)—Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois began a week's vacation at a secluded ranch near Sasabe Thursday to rest up from his unsuccessful campaign as the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

Forger's Memory Slips

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—A man who said he didn't remember forging checks decided to place his confidence in the accuracy of law enforcement officials here and pleaded guilty to the offense.

The 31-year-old man when arraigned on a chareg of issuing a bad check told the judge, "To tell you the truth, your honor, I didn't know I wrote them."

The judge apparently thought otherwise. He gave the man five years.

Lincoln Hinky Dinky Newest In Firm

History Starts Back In 1919

The Lincoln Hinky-Dinky store is the newest of the firm which operates stores in Nebraska and western Iowa. It is store No. 51 in the Hinky-Dinky system.

The history of the Nebraska owned firm actually goes back to 1919 when J. M. Newman, president of Hinky-Dinky Stores company, followed in his father's and grandfather's footsteps and opened a grocery store in Omaha.

In the next few years, two more stores, one in South Omaha and the other in Council Bluffs, Ia., were opened. During this period, Newman's two brothers, Henry and Albert, and their cousin, Ben D. Silver, pooled their interests in the infant enterprise.

Henry and Albert Newman are now both vice-presidents, and Mr. Silver secretary-treasurer. Calvin M. (Nick) Newman, son of the president, is assistant secretary-treasurer.

In 1925, when the four founders decided to open their first cash and carry type market they needed to find a name. The trend was toward catchy, double-jointed names for super-markets, so the four young World-War I veterans borrowed a famous wartime song, and "Hinky-Dinky" was chosen.

The first store was opened in Omaha in 1925. It occupied a room 25 by 60 feet, and had a staff of five persons.

From its modest beginning, the company grew to 18 stores employing 70 persons in 1929. In the next 10 years it expanded over Nebraska and western Iowa, and had 350 employees by 1939.

A fleet of modern trucks and trailer-tractors, some of them refrigerated; a 10-story warehouse in Omaha and more than 50 employes are all vital parts of the organization today.

Morris Siegel Is 'Optimist Of The Year'

Morris D. Siegel, a Lincoln businessman, was honored Thursday by the Lincoln Optimist Club as its first "Optimist of the Year."

The award, which will be an annual presentation, is made to the individual who, in the club's opinion, contributed most to the community during the past year.

Morris Siegel

Siegel was cited for services as president of the Lancaster County Polio chapter during the worst polio season in the county's history, as a past vice president of the Lincoln Optimist club, as chairman of the speakers bureau for the current Community Chest-Red Cross campaign, and as an executive board member of the Boy Scout's Cornhusker Council.

Dr. F. L. Spradling, first vice president, said in presenting the award: "In these many ways, Morris Siegel has carried out the Optimist motto, 'Friend to the Boy.'"

Five Others Cited

Five other Optimist Club members were cited for outstanding activities. They were:

Fred Hall—"Untiring efforts in spreading Optimism to indisposed club members."

Howard Spahnle—"Meritorious work in Optimist-sponsored special events."

Ted Kimball—"Untiring work with handicapped boys and for his long service in the Boy Scout movement."

James Ewing—"Successful planning of the Cub Scout kite flying contest."

Paul Haberlan—"Untiring service and devotion to the job of club secretary during the past eight years."

Principal speaker was James W. Whitsitt of Kansas City, Mo., District 10 governor of Optimist International.

The Optimist award and visit of the district governor marked the climax of the club's observance of national Optimist Week.

Hinky Dinky Veterans Head City Store

Staff Made Up Of 39 Regulars

Three men whose combined experience with Hinky-Dinky Stores Company totals nearly 30 years have moved to Lincoln to take positions in the company's new super market at 25th and O Streets here.

They are Raymond E. Becker, store manager; Ben E. Mielak, meat department manager; and Maurice Moravec, assistant store manager.

They head a staff of 39 regular full-time employees and 22 persons who have been hired on a part-time basis for peak periods.

Becker, a native of Exeter, started working for Hinky-Dinky in 1945, soon after receiving his Army discharge.

He soon became manager of a small store, then a large one in South Omaha. For the last two years and a half he has managed the super market at McCook.

Mielak, a native of Columbus, began working in the Hinky-Dinky meat market there in 1936 and has been with the company since, having managed the Columbus market the past several years.

Moravec began his Hinky-Dinky career in Seward soon after finishing his schooling here. He was manager of the Seward store until two years ago, then was inducted into the Army. He returned from Korea just before taking his new appointment.

Other up-through-the-ranks veteran Hinky-Dinky men who have moved to Lincoln to form the nucleus of the new staff are Glenn Judevine of Omaha, produce department manager; Donald Kohl of Council Bluffs, Ia., clerk and sign painter; Mrs. Kohl, wrapper in the meat department; and Bill Hemmer, Nebraska City, and Robert Vaughn, Falls City, clerks.

The other 53 employees at the new store are Lincolnites.

Crosby Says He Is Free Of Committments

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Robert Crosby, in his first formal appearance as governor-elect, told a home town audience that his hands are free, that he has made no job committments to any man in Nebraska.

He said he would take office with "humility," and is determined to stay that way although he knows what politics can do to a man.

He said that although the highway problem was the foremost campaign issue, no town held any promise from him for any particular road.

Actually, he declared, the foremost problem in Nebraska now is the educational problem. Nebraska ranks lowest among the 48 states in standards set up for certifying teachers, he noted.

Crosby spoke at the North Platte Chamber of Commerce's annual banquet.

He had words of praise for the kind of campaign waged by his opponent, Walter Raecke, Central City.

"Not once did Raecke in any way injure me or talk about my past in a discrediting way—or my family," said Crosby.

Declaring he would make a "genuine effort" to fulfill campaign promises, Crosby said he will try to reorganize departments, putting related activities in the same department.

For instance, he said, the Agriculture department should not have to collect the cigarette tax which it now does, nor should the Railway Commission have to regulate grain warehouses. He said that because of activities given to other departments, the number of governmental departments in Nebraska have grown from six in 1919 to 46 in 1949.

Owen Marshall, Ex-Resident Of Greenwood, Dies

Owen Marshall, 81, former Greenwood farmer and laborer, died in Lincoln Thursday.

Born on July 27, 1871, Mr. Marshall moved to incoln in 1924.

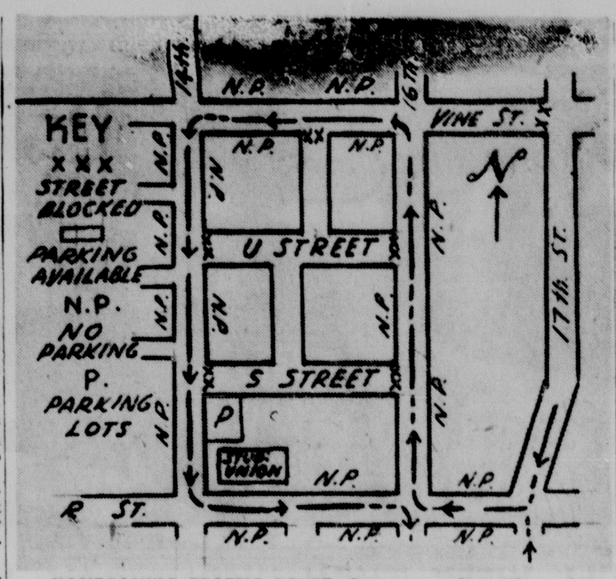
Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mary J. Byerly of Kansas; and a great nephew, "Curly" Marshall of Lincoln.

'Old Hearst Ranch' Sold

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Sale of the 500-acre "Old Hearst ranch" was announced Thursday by John A. Marshall who owned the East Bay property for the last 12 years.

Marshall, who operated the ranch site as a resort, said it was sold to the Castlewood corporation, headed by Laurence Curtola, Oakland and Vallejo restauranteur and wartime owner of an Oakland shipyard.

Marshall did not reveal the sale price of the property which includes 15 buildings, an 18-hole golf course, stables, an outdoor swimming pool and indoor plunge.



HOMECOMING TRAFFIC ROUTE—Spectators who wish to drive through the University of Nebraska campus to view the home decorations are asked to follow the route outlined above. (Star Map.)

Homecoming At NU To Open With Decorations; Parade Set

Traditional Homecoming festivities this week end at the University of Nebraska get under way Friday evening with the judging of house decorations.

Saturday's events include a parade starting at 10 a.m., an alumni luncheon and the football game with the University of Minnesota. The climax will be a Homecoming dance Saturday evening.

Thousands of persons are expected to visit the campus Friday evening to see the colorful house decorations. Some 35 organizations have entered the competition. Spectators who wish to drive are asked to follow this route:

Starting at 17th and R streets, drive west on R to 16th street, north on 16th to Vine street, west on Vine to 14th street, south on 14th back to R street, east on R to 16th street and south on 16th to Q street.

Thirty-one floats decorated by campus groups will make up the Homecoming parade which is scheduled to start at 10 a.m. Saturday from Avery Laboratory. After leaving the campus the parade route will be:

South on 16th street to O street, west on O to 11th street, north on 11th to R street, east on R to 12th street and north on 12th to the starting point.

The alumni luncheon will be served buffet style in the Student Union from 11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. Saturday. No program is planned.

Barbara Hershberger, University senior from Seward, will reign as Pep Queen at ceremonies at half-time of the football game. In keeping with tradition, she was chosen for the honor last year and presented at the 1951 Homecoming dance.

In turn, this year's dance will be highlighted by the presentation of the 1953 Pep Queen. She was selected by student vote from five juniors, all of whom are active in Tassels, women's pep society. Finalists for the title are Connie Clark, St. Edward; Susan Reinhardt, Scottsbluff; Barbara Bell, Lincoln; Norma Lothrop, Sioux City, Ia.; and Darlene Gooding, Lincoln.

Winners in the men and women's houses decoration contests and in the float competition will also be announced at the dance. The Innocents Society will present a check for $165 to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This sum represents the entrance fees for organizations competing in the house decorations contest.

Absentee Vote Throws Hall To Crosby Side

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Counting of absentee ballots in Hall County Thursday took the county from the list of six counties carried by Walter R. Raecke, Democratic candidate for governor, in the Nov. 4 election.

When the unofficial vote was counted Raecke had 7,000 votes in Hall County to 6,955 votes for Robert B. Crosby of North Platte, Republican and now governor-elect.

When the 685 absentee ballots were counted Crosby gleaned 378 additional votes and Raecke got 289, giving Crosby a margin of 44 votes. The final total was Crosby 7,333, Raecke 7,289. The absentee ballots did not make any difference in any other races.

Dropping Hall County from the Raecke list left only Butler, Merrick, Nance, Saline and Sherman Counties in his column. Raecke is from Central City in Merrick County.

Irrigation Legislation Topic Of Meeting Here

A special meeting Nov. 25 of the Agriculture Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will feature George E. Johnson, chief engineer of the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District.

G. F. Brownfield, committee chairman, said the meeting, to be held at noon at the Lincoln Chamber, will feature a discussion of proposed irrigation legislation, especially in regard to watershed proposals. Several Hastings persons will be on hand for the meeting.

Transient Fined For Theft Of Pastor's Coat

A transient laborer from Des Moines, Ia., Charles W. James, was fined $50 by Municipal Judge John Jacobson for making off with the coat of Rev. William P. Bancroft of Ft. Peck, Mont., at the Burlington station.

James was arrested by Special Agent Al Hartman of the Burlington yards.

HINKY DINKY

New Hinky Dinky 'State's Biggest'

Floor Space 28,500 Feet

Lincoln's new Hinky - Dinky store not only is the largest in the company's system, but is the biggest food store in Nebraska, the company reports.

The store, at 25th and O, has 28,500 square feet of floor space, including more than 11,000 for selling.

There are nine super speed checkout stands, each equipped with electric conveyor belts and each having the capacity of two ordinary type checkstands, the company reports.

There are 3,200 feet of sanitary steel shelving concentrated in the middle of the selling area and separated by wide aisles. Open refrigerated display cases line the walls.

A colorful 95-foot mural depicting most of the foods produced in Nebraska fills the back walls.

The entire store is air conditioned and sections are connected with an intercommunications system.

An innovation is a special kiddie corner equipped with small table and chairs, comic books and a motor-driven hobby horse. There are special shopping carts with "rumble seats" for the very young children, and little junior baskarts—exact replicas of the big ones used by adults—to amuse youngsters who accompany their parents on shopping trips.

The processing room of the meat department at the rear of the store (south side) is the last word as far as modern equipment is concerned.

There are 650 square feet of deep freeze storage space in the meat department.

There are 650 square feet of coolers and 96 square feet of deep freeze storage space in the meat department.

Coolers and freezers in the basement are used for perishables, with dumb waiters and conveyors used to transport merchandise to the selling area.

The building is fire-proof, of light stone, tile and brick.

Congratulations

City's School Construction On Schedule

"School construction under the $6 million bond issue is on schedule," Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of Lincoln public schools, told the Sertoma Club.

Homebuilding in northeast Lincoln—466 units since the bond issue—has caused some concern, but the school official said the problem would be met by transfer of the Havelock junior high school to Northeast Junior-Senior high school..

The transfer after completion of proposed additional classrooms at Northeast would make additional elementary classrooms available for 240 pupils at Havelock school, he said. Also the child center at Northeast would be housed in the new quarters, later.

Dr. Watkins said 39 classrooms, constructed within the last year, are in use and 50 additional rooms would be available for the 1953-54 school year.

"Despite rising costs, it looks like we will get the entire proposed expansion program out of the bonds voted, but there will be no extra funds," he concluded.

Britain Sold No Rubber Or Tin To Red China In 1952

LONDON (AP)—Communist China got no rubber or tin from Britain or her colonies this year, the House of Commons was told Thursday.

Board of Trade President Peter Thorneycroft also added that Russia is getting British-controlled rubber at the same rate as previously, but only insignificant shipments of tin.

Both commodities are considered prime war-important materials.

British policy on shipments of vital rubber to Russia is to limit the amount to what the Board of Trade deems normal civilian needs. Rubber authorities in London say that works out to about 80,000 tons a year.

Business Loans Rise

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Federal Reserve Board reported that business loans of member banks increased $195,000,000 in the week ended Nov. 5. Principal gains were $101,000,000 in New York City, $31,000,000 in Chicago, and $14,000,000 in the San Francisco district. Outstanding borrowing now total $22,469,000,000, a rise of $1,802,000,000 from this time a year ago.

Power Output Up

NEW YORK (INS—The Edison Electric Institute announced Thursday that nationwide power output in the week ended Nov. 8 set a new 1952 high at 7,806,795,000 kilowatt hours. This was 5.6 per cent higher than the same week last year. The week previous, production had topped the 1951 level by 5.9 per cent. The New England area made the best showing last week with a rise of 11.6 per cent from a year ago.

The 58-year-old traveler visited Los Alamos County in New Mexico Wednesday to complete more than 22 years of motoring in which he covered more than a quarter million miles.

Hard Concrete Poses Removal Problem

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—City Engineer W. J. Brown has never seen concrete so hard.

When the city wanted to remove part of an airport ramp to make way for a new administration building, it contracted with two irrigation canal companies. Those firms planned to salvage the material for ditch linings.

But after attacking the concrete with two small bulldozers, hammers and finally a 12,000 pound pile driver and only chipping off a few corners, they gave up.

Next Brown brought in an 11-ton bulldozer with a device of his own invention which had been used for similar jobs during the war. That was a week ago.

Only a few small sections have been removed and then only after some blasting.

Brown now thinks he has a blasting pattern that will do the trick.

The concrete was poured during World War II

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

My barber says he guesses the switch is complete now . . . an actress whose patroness was Mrs. Roosevelt turned up in the picture pages the other night with a Mamie Eisenhower hairdo.

☆ ☆ ☆

Kiernan

I said, "How come you're interested in who's copying Mamie's bangs?" He said, "Because if anybody copies Ike's, I'm ruined."

☆ ☆ ☆

Ike isn't exactly bald, but he could count his electoral votes on his head.

☆ ☆ ☆

He is the kind of fellow who goes to a barber shop from memory and should be a reliable fellow for that reason. . . How could he ever pull the wool over our eyes when he can't get it over his own?

☆ ☆ ☆

Some of my more enthusiastic Ike-idolers say his election makes it easy to classify the political eras of our time . . . 1932 New Deal, 1945 Fair Deal, 1952 Ideal.

But as the justice of peace remarked as he kissed the bride and shook hands with the groom, "Now go back to your corners and come out fighting."

Orphans Find A Haven

VENICE (AP)—Hundreds of Venetian orphans have found homes and a future, thanks to a foundation honoring a rich Italian youth who died in an air crash in Cannes.

He was Giorgio Cini. He died while taking off in a private plane from the Cannes La Bocca Airport in August, 1949. Count Vittorio Cini, Giorgio's father, has dedicated his energies and part of his wealth to a foundation named after his son. It cares for orphans of sailors and fishermen and gives them an education and mechanical training. The foundation site is on St. Georges Island.

Now, after two years of reconstructing buildings there, 250 orphans live and study in spacious classrooms, have their own soccer field, an open-air swimming pool and a new theater.

Count Cini also keeps 100 Venetian street urchins on the island, with new dormitories and mess rooms for them.

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Wheat Prices Off; Light Rain Expected

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat fell out of favor with the bulls on the Board of Trade Thursday but its place was immediately taken by corn and soybeans.

Reason for the demotion of wheat in the popularity of bulls was a forecast for light rains in eastern Kansas and Oklahoma by late Friday. That was enough to knock down the bread cereal's price, although not all of Wednesday's gains were given up.

Meanwhile, soybeans and corn rolled upward in active dealings, helped along by expectations receipts of the cash commodities would be declining from this point onward.

Wheat closed ½-1 uower, corn 1⅞-1⅞ higher, oats ⅛ lower to ⅞ higher, rye ¼ lower to ½ higher, soybeans 1¾-3½ higher and lard 15 cents lower to 22 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Quite a shot in the arm to soybeans was an estimate by the American Soybean Association that 600 million pounds of soybean oil, approximately one-fourth of the oil produced from the 1952 bean crop, will be used in the production of margarine this year. That would be up 30 per cent from the previous year.

The association went on to predict that by 1955 more than 800 million pounds of soybean oil will be required for margarine.

Action of corn was somewhat surprising in view of Wednesday's Agriculture Department crop report, raising estimated corn production by 46 million bushels from a month ago. Apparently some traders held to their positions until this estimate came out, expecting corn to drop. It didn't and the shorts had to bid up the price to get out of their positions.

Stock Mart Shows Even Gains, Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market tried hard to put on a real advance Thursday but had to settle for an almost exactly even mixture of gains and losses.

It was a comparatively quiet session. Few stocks moved more than a fraction. None of the statistics were very decisive.

But there never was quite enough steam nor quite enough broad interest for a general, decisive advance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks wound up 20 cents ahead at $107.50. Industrials gained 30 cents; utilities a dime, and rails dropped 10 cents.

Numerically, advances outnumbered losses by only one issue. Gains totaled 412 and losses 411 out of 1,116 stocks traded.

The larger number of gains were among the more active stocks. Of the 15 most active of the session there were 13 advances and two declines. Thirty-one issues hit new highs while only 26 tropped to new lows.

There was nothing "in the news to throw the market either up or down.

The curb showed a little more vim than the "Big Board" on a comparative basis but the same mixed narrow tendencies were present.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Junior grade railroad bonds led the corporate bond market to higher ground Thursday, while Treasury obligations declined.

Sales totaled $4,250,000 par value, a decline from Wednesday's booming $5,520,000. But it was still one of the busiest days of the year.

Low and medium priced railroad bonds were strongly in demand.

Rep. Martin Believes A Tax Cut Possible Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., in line to be speaker of the House in the new Republican Congress, said Thursday he believes a tax cut is possible next year, but that a balanced budget "must be the ultimate objective."

Rep. Martin

The federal budget must be balanced or at least brought almost into balance before taxes are reduced, Martin told a news conference, his first in Washington since the GOP won control of the next Congress.

Martin was speaker of the GOP House in 1947-48 and is regarded as being in line for the job again, although there has been some scattered talk of position. He is Republican leader in the present House.

The tax cuts Martin said he hopes for would be in addition to reductions due automatically next year under existing law, unless Congress acts to maintain present rates. Martin wouldn't say how much of a tax cut he thinks can be made.

In order to get a balanced budget, the Massachusetts congressman said, there must be economies which he added can be effected through cuts in military spending and in federal personnel, as in other government activities.

Saving money on the payroll, he said, does not necessarily mean that thousands of federal employees must be fired. Martin said substantial savings would result if normal vacancies aren't filled.

There have been unconfirmed reports that President Truman, as one of his last official acts, will submit to Congress by Jan. 18 a budget calling for outlays of about 85 billion dollars in the fiscal year which starts next July 1.

Martin expressed belief such a budget can be "substantially cut."

Bike Accident

Larry Hinger, 15, 3618 So. 52nd, suffered a possible broken nose and other facial injuries, police repored, when a bike he was riding struck a parked car between 49th and 50th on Prescott.

He was treated by a physician and sent home.
